BELL BACKS AID REPORT

Family's Food Saved

A Balinese youngster totes the family piglet as residents of the Bali village of Subagen were evacuated from the area in which an estimated 200 persons died when lava, mud and huge boulders spewed forth from the island's erupting volcano and destroyed the village.

—NO ACTION TAKEN—

K-12 Proposal Draws Crowd

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

The Education Committee adjourned without taking action Tuesday after a hearing on two school district reorganization bills which drew the largest crowd of any committee hearing yet held in the 1963 session.

Principal attention was drawn toward LB500, introduced by Sen. Clifton Foster of Bradshaw—a reorganization bill supported by the State Board of Education, State School District Reorganization Committee, State Department of Education, State School Boards Association, Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers and Nebraska State Education Association.

Opposition to the bill came from the Nebraska School Improvement Association, the Farmers Union and Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation.

K-12 Plan

LB500 proposes a comprehensive K-12 plan which would give the State School District Reorganization Committee veto power over any school redistricting plan—it now operates only in an advisory capacity.

Appeals from the committee would rest with the State Board of Education. The bill provides, however, that no reorganization plan could become effective without a vote of the people in the districts involved.

The bill provides that if counties have not initiated such reorganization by January 1, 1966, the state committee could prepare a reorganization plan which would be submitted to an election.

Sen. Foster said the measure provides a needed framework for orderly school district reorganization and that it leaves control of school redistricting in local hands.

This statement was strongly opposed by NSIA Executive Secretary S. H. Brauer Jr. who contended the bill would give the State Board of Education "dictatorial authority to set all the standards for reorganization."

Brauer also declared the state board "is not responsive to the will of the people, but is responsive only to the pro-educationist groups."

He termed it "foot-in-the-door type of legislation to compulsory reorganization of the type where parents don't control the education of their children."

In his closing remarks, Sen. Foster blasted the NSIA as giving "simply lip service" to the educational needs of Nebraska youth.

"We're not educating youth to stay on the farm," Foster said. "It's time we wised up. They, our children, are leaving Nebraska."

Petition

The second measure heard, LB746, introduced by Sens. Peter Claussen of Leigh and Frank Nelson of O'Neill, would prevent a county redistricting committee from including in a reorganization plan any school district which presented a petition signed by at least 55% of that district's voters desiring to be excluded.

Claussen described the bill as a vehicle which would see more accomplished in reorganization if it were done on a voluntary basis.

The bill was supported by the NSIA, and opposed by the State School Boards Association and State Reorganization Committee whose representatives described it as an "impediment" to effective reorganization.

A third bill before the committee, LB370 introduced by Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha, would change the requirements for reserve teachers and increase their annual compensation from $540 to $840.

The bill was supported by the State Board of Education and drew no opposition.

Delay Seen In Cuts

Washington (AP)—The man who runs U.S. foreign aid gave a ringing endorsement Tuesday to the committee that criticized it.

And, following the line of the Clay Committee's recommendations, Administrator David Bell of the Agency for International Development (AID) predicted the end of U.S. economic aid to Greece, Israel and Nationalist China in 3 to 4 years, and to Libya, Saudi Arabia and Venezuela after that.

As he spoke, further evidence mounted that the sting of the committee's report has taken its first effects:

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said that President Kennedy, in his foreign aid message to Congress next week, may suggest a cut in the $4.9 billion he asked for foreign aid in his budget message last January.

Bell gave his endorsement of the Clay Committee in a talk to the Magazine Publishers Association. The committee, headed by retired Gen. Lucius D. Clay, made public its report to Kennedy last Saturday.

'Appropriate'

"The judgments and policies and attitudes that they expressed are sound, appropriate and proper," Bell said. "We do not have any substantial difference of judgments on the main line of the committee's policy recommendations."

But Bell refused to interpret the committee report as a plea for a heavy slash in the President's budget request for foreign aid in the 1964 fiscal year, which starts July 1.

The committee said that "if our criteria were now in effect, present programs would be reduced by approximately $500 million . . . "

But Bell said the committee, in other parts of the report, recommended a boost in assistance to some areas.

"There is no basis to derive any judgment on what they think of the budget request that President Kennedy is making," Bell said.

Humphrey made his prediction about a cut in the President's budget request after he attended the weekly conference of Democratic congressional leaders at the White House.

Bolsters Reports

Humphrey's statement appeared to bolster earlier reports that Kennedy, faced with the Clay Committee recommendations, intended to cut his budget request by $200 million.

Bell, in his talk, outlined AID's new look in foreign aid. He said the program would have three main features:

1. There would be an end in sight to assistance programs in each country. He said 3 countries—Greece, Israel and Nationalist China—soon will be on top of their economic problems and no longer will need U.S. assistance.

But Bell named other countries—Korea, India, Pakistan and Bolivia—where he said the problems are such that "It will take 5, 10 or more years for them to achieve economic self support."

2. AID would recognize that the job must be done from the inside. "If the leaders are not prepared to take the necessary measures now," Bell said, "outside help won't do any good."

3. The United States would encourage development by private investment, rather than by government. "We are trying to persuade countries to change their policies on how they treat private investment," Bell said. He noted that some countries already have large private investment programs.

U.S.-Soviet Berlin Meetings Reopen

. . . IN FRIENDLY ATMOSPHERE

Washington (AP)— New U.S.-Soviet talks on the long deadlocked Berlin issue were opened Tuesday in what was officially described as a friendly and businesslike atmosphere.

No new proposals were made by either side, but it was agreed to continue the discussions.

The first meeting between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Russian Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin took place at the State Department and lasted an hour.

Preliminary Talks

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White then announced:

"This was the first preliminary conversation in the resumed exploratory talks on Germany and Berlin.

"The atmosphere was friendly and businesslike. There will be further discussions. No specific date has yet been set.

"No new proposals were made by either side. No papers were exchanged."

Despite the absence of any new proposals, White said "it is a little early in the game to determine whether these talks can be successful or not."

Dobrynin took the line that the discussions could go on for some time.

"We just began the exchange of opinion about the German and Berlin situations" and this is "a big question," Dobrynin said.

Talks Sought

The Soviets asked for a resumption of the talks, which were suspended last fall during the Cuban crisis.

Dobrynin was smiling, but noncommital, as he went into Rusk's office. He was accompanied by embassy counselor Georgi Kornienko.

Sitting in with Rusk were East-West affairs adviser Llewellyn Thompson and Martin Hillenbrand, head of a State Department task force on Berlin.

In advance of the closed session at the State Department, Press Officer Lincoln White described the meeting as "a continuation of earlier exploratory talks to see whether the Soviet position has changed to a degree to make possible negotiations over Berlin agreement."

U.S. authorities said they had no indication that Moscow was offering new proposals more acceptable to the West than those which the West has turned down in the past.

Revenue Unit Eyes Hike In Investments

. . . TO MEET WITH SWANSON

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature's Revenue Committee will confer with State Treasurer Clarence L. E. Swanson to determine whether more state funds can be invested in interest-producing holdings.

Chairman Jules Burbach of Crofton Tuesday arranged a meeting tentatively slated for Thursday following the committee's public hearing.

The committee, Burbach said, desires a briefing on the investment of state funds, what problems are involved and "whether something needs to be done to assist."

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, a member of the committee, has previously expressed a desire to study the matter.

Investment of state funds yielded $910,398 in earnings during 1962, according to Deputy State Treasurer Frank Ullstrom.

The state presently has $26 million invested, but will have an all-time high of $28 million invested by April 2, he said.

Cash deposits Ullstrom said, normally hold between $13 million and $20 million, although they are "a little stronger now" because of special disbursements due at this time of the year.

The state normally attempts to keep a month's expenditures on deposit, Ullstrom pointed out. The state expends from $14 million to $19 million monthly.

Deposits are held in 5 banks, 3 of them located in Omaha and two in Lincoln.

Top investment total has been $27.5 million.

High School Girls Tour Ag College

"Never has the demand for advanced education been so important as today or the potential rewards as great," Dr. Clifford Hardin, University of Nebraska chancellor declared here Tuesday.

He addressed some 663 Nebraska high school girls from all parts of the state attending the first of two Hospitality Days here. A similar event to be held Wednesday is expected to attract another 600 girls to the School of Home Economics at the College of Agriculture.

Campus tours led by NU students in home economics, are giving the girls attending an opportunity to view displays and demonstrations highlighting careers in the home economics field.

Dr. Hazel Fox, acting director of the School of Home Economics, told the Hospitality Day guests that "students in the School planned this day for you. This is a field applying to the talents and interests of women with many career opportunities."

Abel Construction Bids Low On Muny Runway

Abel Construction Co. of Lincoln was apparetnly low at $1,455,661.41 for construction of the 4,000-foot runway at the Lincoln Municipal Airport in bids opened Tuesday by the Airport Authority.

Authority Chairman Leo J. Beck Jr. said the board will make a determination of the low bid Thursday when the consulting engineer's analysis and recommendation will be available.

Abel's bid compares with the engineer's estimate of $1,576,556.80 on the project which includes the municipal runway and related taxiways and general aviation apron.

Other Bids

Other bidders were Western Contracting Co., Sioux City, Iowa, $1,496,018.15; Roberts Construction Co., Lincoln, $1,545,074.97; Dobson Bros. Construction Co., Lincoln, $1,549,531.58.

General Concrete Co., an Abel company, was the apparent low bidder at $81,656.50 for construction of the service road to the Municipal Airport's general aviation area.

Only other bidder was Roberts Construction Co. at $88,050. The engineering estimate was $65,259.

Largest Project

The runway paving contract is the largest single project in the $4.6 million airport expansion program.

Both the runway and service road projects will be financed 50-50 with federal airport aid and authority funds.

Bids on two maintenance hangars and smaller T-hangars for the municipal airport are to be received Thursday by the authority.

Completion of the runway is anticipated by late 1963 under the authority's airport program.

And Nobody Will Investigate

It was in the fireplace.

Somebody forgot to open the damper.

Nobody was saying who.

N.Y. Strike Now Within One 'Yes' Of Settlement

New York (AP) — A 109-day blackout of 8 major New York newspapers was within one little word of settlement Tuesday.

All that was required to get the papers back on the streets was for 320 striking AFL-CIO photoengravers to say "yes" to a peace formula laid down by Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

Publishers already had accepted the mayor's terms, with a warning that "we cannot and will not enlarge upon the mayor's proposal and all publishers agree there is no purpose to be served by further negotiations."

Still To Decide

Leaders of New York Photoengravers Local 1 still were to decide whether to accept the formula and recommend it for membership ratification.

Obviously hopeful, Wagner already had closed his Commodore Hotel headquarters, where for several weeks he has been mediating and umpiring a series of contract disputes within the newspaper industry.

The mayor proposed to the engravers essentially the same terms accepted by the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union, and used as a basis for settlement with 5 other newspaper craft unions.

Saw Possibility

Meanwhile, in Cleveland, Ohio, the head of a striking printers local foresaw the possibility that the two major newspapers in that city could resume publication Monday after a record 117-day blackout. The dailies are the Plain Dealer and the Press and News.

Clifford C. Hilpert, president of the ITU's Cleveland local, said as negotiations were resumed with publishers:

"I'd say we're hopeful. I think the papers possibly will be out again on Monday."

JURY FINDS HODGES INNOCENT IN INCIDENT AT REFORMATORY

By GERRY WRIGHT
Star Staff Writer

James Hodges, charged with assaulting another Men's Reformatory inmate last October, was found innocent by a Lancaster District Court jury Tuesday.

The jury of 7 women and 5 men returned the verdict after approximately two hours deliberation.

Hodges, specifically charged in connection with a fight at the institution Oct. 7, 1962, in which David Dusatko lost the sight in one eye, testified Tuesday that Dusatko took the first swing.

Nobody

Hodges said when he went into Dusatko's room and asked for the cigarettes which had been stolen from him, Dusatko jumped up off the bed and said that "nobody accuses me of anything," and hit him.

Hodges said he struck Dusatko in self-defense.

Earlier, Dusatko testified that he "never hit Hodges once."

Another inmate, John Spahnheimer, testified for the defense Tuesday that when he entered the room where the fight occurred, "it looked like both Hodges and Dusatko were swinging."

He said he didn't see Hodges kick Dusatko.

Jack Muldoon, an inmate called by the state on rebuttal, told the jury he never saw Dusatko hit Hodges.

Reformatory Supt. C. V. Keller told the jury that the Oct. 7 incident had nothing "directly to do with my resignation" which is effective March 31.

He said the charges which were given publicity were "entirely incorrect" and that he resigned "so as not to block the appointment of Mr. Morris."

He further testified that Hodges was a "quiet inmate" and that he didn't remember ever having any trouble with him.

Regarding fights at the institution, the superintendent stated: "Fights among the inmates are normal; I don't think you can avoid them."

Reluctant

He said the inmates are very reluctant to report anything or "rat" on the other inmates.

"They have a code that they have to stick together with a feeling that they are on one side and the reformatory administration and the state on the other, he said.

Keller said he didn't condone fights and never told the inmates "to beat up" each other.

"One fight is too many as far as I'm concerned," he said.

Nebraska's Grade School Teachers Rank Second Lowest In Preparation

Nebraska continues to rank as next to the lowest state in the union in the amount of college preparation held by its grade school teachers, the State Department of Education reported Tuesday.

Only South Dakota ranks lower, the department said.

The observation was contained in a newly released bulletin on Nebraska's teacher supply and demand in 1962-63.

The Lowest

In one respect, Nebraska ranks even below South Dakota in teacher preparation, the report said.

Nebraska has 1,249 elementary school teachers, or 14.4% of the total, who have less than two years of college preparation. South Dakota does better on this score, the report said.

The report showed, however, that the number of elementary teachers holding bachelor's degrees in Nebraska is increasing.

Now 38.9%

During the 1960-61 school year, 2,858 elementary teachers or 32.7% of the total held a bachelor's degree or higher. During the current year, 3,347 teachers or 38.9% of the total hold such degrees.

"The changes are due largely to the fact that many of the 20 colleges and universities in Nebraska that maintain a teacher-education program have dropped the one-year and the two-year education programs and are recommending only teachers that have completed a 4-year program of teacher education," the report said.

Other observations:

— The exodus of elementary school teachers from Nebraska has slowed somewhat, but Nebraska still loses such teachers to other states about 2½ times as fast as the average loss in other states.

Increase

— There is a substantial increase in the number and per cent of high school teachers taking teaching positions in Nebraska. In 1961-62, only 51% of the "new" graduates took Nebraska positions, but this year the percentage increased to 62.

This "complete switch" was attributed to rather substantial salary increases which went into effect this year in most high schools.

— A servere shortage persists in high school teachers of English, foreign languages, mathematics, general science, biology and physics, as well as school librarians.

Oversupply

— The oversupply of men physical education majors is greater than ever.

— The demand for grade school teachers tops the demand for high school teachers roughly 8 to 5 but the number of teachers coming out of training is in an inverse ratio — with high school teachers outnumbering the elementary teachers approximately 8 to 5.

500 Police Battle Jobless Rioters In London

Crowd Almost Forces Way Into Parliament Building

London (AP)—In the shadow of Big Ben, mounted police Tuesday drove back 3,000 rioting jobless men and women who fought their way to the main door to the houses of Parliament.

It took 500 police to stop the bitterest street battle London has seen in years. And for the first time in modern history, a crowd almost forced its way into the Parliament building.

The demonstrators from economically depress areas shouted for the ouster of the conservative government and demanded to be allowed into the building to make their complaints to Britain's lawmakers.

They fought, cursed and threw horse manure and lighted cigarettes at the police. Nine rioters were arrested.

Entrance Reached

Screaming encouragement to each other the rioters first overran hastily summoned police reserves on foot in a swaying battle and reached St. Stephen's entrance — the gothic door into the Parliament building.

Then the mounted police arrived, their horses rearing and snorting. Slowly the police, going about their work silently, began to gain control. The demonstrators began shouting "You fascist swine. This is Gestapoism."

As they were crowded back into the street separating the Parliament building from Westminster Abbey, the rioters kicked and hammered cars passing by, including automobiles belonging to members of Parliament building before the police dragged them down.

The jobless poured into London by plane, train and bus early Tuesday from northern Ireland, Scotland and northern England — all areas of high unemployment.

The move on London was organized by local trades union councils but was billed as a peaceful attempt to lobby members of the House of Commons. Some of the demonstrators wore nuclear disarmament badges and waved communist pamphlets.

After the main battle was over some of the demonstrators staged a sitdown in the street before the police moved them on. Others lingered in Parliament Square and engaged in sullen clashes with individual policemen.

The men arrested were charged variously with threatening behavior, insulting behavior, assault on the police and in one case with possessing an offensive weapon. They will appear at Bow Street Magistrate's Court Wednesday.

Frustration Felt

The demonstration spotlighted the growing feeling of frustration developoing in the old heavy industry areas of the British Isles.

Britain's unemployment rate is lower than the American figure of 6 per cent. But the misery is not evenly distributed.

In areas in the south where new light industries have been established since World War II, workers are still in demand and the economy shows all the signs of a boom.

But in the old northern coal mining, ship building and steelmaking town the lines of jobless seem to have become a permanent part of the landscape.

Unemployment in Britain rose to 878,356 in mid-February, the highest total since 1947. Labor Ministry figures showed that 3.9% of the nation's work force was jobless then.

Prime Minister Macmillan's conservative government is casting about for devices to encourage new industries to locate in the depressed areas.

Unless the government can solve the unemployment problem, it faces almost certain defeat in the next national election due before October, 1964, political analysts say.

The opposition Labor Party, out of office fore more than a decade, confidently expects to win.

Navy Seeks Negroes For Officer Corps

Washington (AP)—One of the first two Negro officers tapped for the Naval War College disclosed Tuesday the Navy wants to attract qualified Negroes into its officer corps.

But Lt. Cmdr. George I. Thompson of Los Angeles indicated the going is slow, apparently because of past history in which Negroes did not fare too well.

"It's as if we had the door shut for 180-odd years," he told a reporter. "We're trying to convince them the door is open."

Will Attend

Thompson, a 34-year-old UCLA graduate concentrating on officer recruitment, has been picked to attend a course at the Naval War College in Newport, R.I., starting next fall.

The other Negro officer chosen for the war college is 40-year-old Cmdr. Samuel L. Gravely Jr., highest ranking Negro in the regular Navy. Gravely is skipper of the escort vessel Falgout based at Pearl Harbor.

Only the most promising of the Navy's officers are picked for the war college, where they are groomed for bigger things.

Breaking Ground

Thompson, now attached to the Bureau of Naval Personnel, is part of a team of both white and Negro officers who have been breaking ground with educators of predominantly Negro colleges.

"We feel it is necessary to talk to the educators," Thompson said. "Some of them had pretty raw experiences in the last war."

The next step, Thompson indicated, would be to follow up with direct recruiting efforts among Negro collegemen.

He stressed there are no racial quotas, that the Navy needs good officers and considers Negro college men an untapped source.

Tests Prove Toxic Tuna Killed Women

Washington (AP) — George P. Larrick, commissioner of food and drugs, announced Tuesday "investigation and laboratory tests justify the conclusion that two Detroit women died as a result of eating a single can of tuna fish contaminated with Type E botulinus toxin."

Larrick said that while this is a rare type of botulism in the United States, canning processes are specifically designed to destroy botulinus organisms of any type.

He said the suspect tuna was canned by the Washington Packing Corp., San Francisco, and was marketed under a label of the A&P Tea Co.

"The Food and Drug Administration has no reason to be concerned about the output of other canned tuna packers," Larrick said.

Pilot And Girl Well Enough To Go Home

Whitehorse, Yukon Territory (AP)—Pilot Ralph Flores and Helen Klaben bounced back Tuesday from the effects of their 7-week ordeal in subzero Canadian wilds. A physician said they can leave for home as soon as they wish.

Home to Miss Klaben, 21, is Brooklyn, N.Y. For Flores, 42-year-old flier and electrician, it is San Bruno, Calif.

Dr. Nesta James said that, despite the fractures, malnutrition and exposure that stemmed from the crash of Flores' $7,000 private plane on a British Columbia mountainside Feb. 4, they are in shape to travel when they like.

The doctor added that gangrene in Miss Klaben's broken right foot is not so severe as first feared, though she may lose one or two toes.

Bidault Is In Portugal; Faces New Obstacles

Lisbon, Portugal (AP) — Traveling under an assumed name, former French Premier Georges Bidault slipped into Portugal from West Germany Tuesday, police said. But he faced new obstacles in his search for a base to carry on his campaign against President Charles de Gaulle.

The Foreign Ministry said the one-time associate of De Gaulle in the wartime fight against the Nazis will not be allowed to undertake any political activity. A police official said Portugal is anxious to safeguard good relations with France.

The same sort of restrictions on his political activity prompted Bidault to quit his haven in West Germany.

Speculation

There was speculation that the 63-year-old Bidault, titular chief of the Council of National Resistance (CNR), would try to reach some South American country. The CNR is the political arm of the Secret Army.

Vowing to continue his campaign for De Gaulle's downfall, Bidault and an aide, Guy Ribeauld, left Munich, Germany, voluntarily Monday night. They went first to Zurich, Switzerland, then boarded a Dutch airliner for Portugal.

The two traveled under the assumed names of "Auberger" and "Offrey."

Arrival Confirmed

A police spokesman at Lisbon Airport confirmed that two men with these names arrived shortly after midnight. Police and government officials professed to be looking for the pair.

In Munich, however, Bavarian Interior Minister Heinrich Junker told a news conference he had "reliable information that Bidault had arrived safely at his destination and that he was not sent back at the border."

AF MUSICIANS FACING PROBE OF SMUGGLING

Washington (AP)—Some members of the Air Force's "Strolling Strings" may have to face the music in a whisky smuggling probe.

Air Police Monday night boarded a C54 transport arriving at Andrews Air Force Base from Bermuda and confiscated what was described as "a quantity of whisky."

It was learned that 4 members of the 24-member Strolling Strings group are under investigation.

The Air Policemen reportedly found about 120 bottles in foot lockers. It was not explained how the Air Police were alerted to look for the whisky.

Trace 3 Cases Of Typhoid To Swiss Resort

Washington (AP) — The U.S. Public Health Service reported Tuesday 3 confirmed cases of typhoid fever traceable to an outbreak in a Swiss ski resort have been found in the United States.

It said there is one case each in New York City, Hartford, Conn., and Berkeley, Calif. The case in New York previously had been reported.

Harold Wolfe, public information officer for the health service's Division of Foreign Quarantine, said he did not know the nomes of the victims. He referred reporters to the public health services in those cities.

Several hundred persons, including about 200 Americans, are believed to have been exposed to the disease at the famed ski resort of Zermatt in Switzerland. The disease was believed to have been brought to the resort by an Italian construction worker and spread through the resort's water system.

At least two Swiss residents have died of the disease.

Korea's Junta Spurns U.S. Suggestion Of Civilian Rule

Seoul, Korea (AP) — Gen. Chung Hee Park's junta Tuesday spurned a suggestion from the United States, the financial angel of South Korea, that it drop plans to prolong its military rule and give way to a civilian government.

Junta spokesman Lee Hupak announced the military position stands unchanged, though he added that Korean civilian politicians may yet come up with compromise proposals that deserve attention.

Lee made clear that the two-year-old junta intends to pursue Park's bid to stay in power 4 more years through an April referendum despite a critical policy statement issued by the U.S. State Department press officer, Lincoln White, in Washington Monday.

Could Be Threat

"We believe that prolongation of military rule could constitute a threat to stable and effective government," White said in a statement that carried President Kennedy's approval.

Lee declared that "it is the Korean people themselves who know best that the military government today is providing a government more stable and effective than anything experienced in the past."

Some Koreans expressed concern lest the junta's blast result in a cut in the economic aid which has kept South Korea going for years and has heretofore given the United States a strong voice in Korean affairs.

The U.S. statement was welcomed by civilian antigovernment leaders, but appeared to have come too late to bolster their sagging movement to force withdrawal of Park's proposal to stay in power.

Premier Kim Hyun-chul said he considers the Washington statement "a piece of advice to work for settlement of the current situation by means acceptable to the people."

West's Wheat Shows Growth

. . . Barley Loss Seen For Southwest

Winter grains responded to the warm weather last week and surface moisture conditions were favorable, state-federal crop statisticians said in their weekly crop report.

Winter wheat fields in the east were greening and those in the western counties showed a little growth. For the state, the wheat crop appears to have come through the winter with a moderate loss of acreage.

The growing appraisals indicate there may be considerable loss of winter barley in some southwestern counties. The crop is more promising in other areas, the report said.

A limited amount of field work was accomplished last week and most of it occurred in southwestern districts where dry soil conditions prevailed.

Stalk cutting, plowing and discing were the most common operations. Some farmers were spreading fertilizer, seeding oats and barley.

Some sugar beet seed beds have been prepared and growers are waiting for the soil to dry sufficiently to permit planting. Tilling operations will get under way if the weather continues warm and dry.

Pastures and ranges were open for grazing and provided good feed. Early grasses were greening up in a few places.

Some cattle were moved to spring and summer pastures and will receive supplemental feed until new grass becomes available. Winter wheat fields with new growth and stalk fields provided limited pastures. Cattle will be moved from stalk fields as tillage operations become more general.

Calving operations were favored by the nice weather and made good progress. Losses were about average or less for this time of year. Cattle on feed made better gains as the dry weather relieved muddy conditions in feedlots.

Peace Corps Includes 40 Cornhuskers

At least 40 Nebraskans are in Peace Corps service overseas.

Fifteen of them are teachers, 4 are mechanics and 3 are in commercial development. Other fields with at least one volunteer represented include agriculture, carpentry, construction, engineering, technical work and home economics.

The official list from Washington Peace Corps headquarters includes only those volunteers overseas as of Sept. 30, 1962. A number of others have received assignments since September, including Herb Probasco of Lincoln, now in the Philippines.

Hometowns and foreign assignments follow the names.

Delores Blaser, Duncan, Dacca, East Pakistan; Julie Bringelson, Central City, Monrovia, Liberia; Richard Bringelson, Gothenburg, Monrovia, Liberia; Robert Burns, Lincoln, Kuala Lumpar, Malaya; Burke Casari, Lincoln, Freetown, Sierra Leone; William Chamberlain, Omaha, Kuala Lumpar, Malaya; Charles Carlson, Oshkosh, Tunis, Tunisia; Larry Dornacker, Blair, Katmandu, Nepal; Michael Eiland, Fremont, Lima, Peru; Glen Evans, Berwyn, Tunis, Tunisia; Lloyd Goodson, Tompson, Karachi, Pakistan; Richard Grobe, Fremont, Kingston, Jamaica; Nate Gross, Fremont, Tarkwa, Ghana.

Northeast Stock Men Urge Probe Of Prices

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Oakland—A state probe of declining livestock prices and the cost of meat to the consumer was unanimously supported Tuesday evening by more than 80 livestock men from 8 northeast Nebraska counties.

Representing 3 farm organizations and the Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association, they charged that they have not been fairly represented in prior discussions of the proposed meat probe.

The livestock spokesman unanimously encouraged the Legislature, Gov. Frank Morrison and Agriculture Director Pearle Finigan to proceed with the investigation that has been under consideration at the Capitol.

A strenuous effort was planned by the livestock men to get their area's state senators to support the probe.

Its cost would be minor in comparison with the millions of dollars lost to the Nebraska economy, one cattle feeder said.

John Lydick of Craig chaired the meeting.

CITY VOTERS DEADLINE IS 5 P.M. FRIDAY

Voter registration deadline for the April 9 city primary election is Friday at 5 p.m.

Election Commissioner Fred Cassidy Tuesday reminded voters who have changed address or changed their names or are not registered that they should register before the Friday deadline.

Lincoln's current registration list totals 59,844 voters.

Voters who expect to be absent from the city on election day can vote by absentee ballot until noon April 6 at 12 at the election office at 10th and O.

Blasts Fired At Home Of Negro

Greenwood, Miss. (AP) — Two shotgun blasts were fired Tuesday night into the home of Dewey Green Sr., a Negro who has one son seeking to enroll at the University of Mississippi and another working in a voter registration drive. No one was injured.

In the house were Green, his wife, and 7 children. Police said one blast went through the glass of the front door, and the other through a bedroom window.

Continue Inquest In Fatal Shooting Of Elderly Man

Broken Bow (AP)—An inquest into the death of an 86-year-old filling station attendant has been continued until Wednesday afternoon.

Members of a coroner's jury met to view the body of Bob Richardson who was found dead in his station Friday night. They also heard testimony from the county physician, Dr. Theodore Koefoot.

County Attorney Earl Johnson said the jury will hear additional testimony Wednesday.

When found, Richardson had a .32 caliber pistol in his hand. He had been shot in the head. Investigators, including State Patrol Investigator Jack Sexton, said they found additional bullet holes in door casings.

THE WEATHER

Summary of Conditions

High pressure and cool air is expected to continue to move southeastwards from the central Texas area, finally washing over the western Gulf of Mexico Wednesday.

A weak cold front is moving slowly from a line through northeastern Montana, central North Dakota, and northern Minnesota, but is not expected to reach Nebraska. It should move, instead, into northeastern Iowa Wednesday afternoon.

Gulf moisture is cut off by the cool high pressure area over Texas and will not return through Thursday. This seems to indicate that skies will continue generally fair Wednesday through Thursday.

It will be warmer Wednesday and Wednesday night and will continue to be mild Thursday, although there may possibly be partly cloudy skies. No precipitation is expected through Thursday.

North Star Scouts Facing 'Lost Child' Mobilization

A "Lost Child" mobilization will call out Boy Scouts in the north half of Lincoln and Lancaster County sometime this coming weekend.

The North Star District Scouts to be called at an unspecified time and location will be notified in the same way as would be used in a real emergency.

The Scouts will search a specified area for the "lost child" — a rag doll or dummy. When they find it, one Scout will be designated a "victim" in place of the child. His fellow Scouts will then practice proper first-aid techniques on him.

Chairman Henry Buis of the North Star Health and Safety Committee said the mobilization's purpose is two-fold:

— to give Scouts practice in searching for a lost child.

— to give them a chance to try out their first-aid skills.

Red Cross representatives will judge the first aid work.

In a similar callout last year, 16 of the district's 30 troops arrived promptly at the scene where they were needed.

Leopold Is Cited For His Research

Washington (UPI)—Nathan Leopold, 1924 Chicago "thrill killer" who recently completed parole in Puerto Rico, has been cited by the National Science Foundation for research in the social sciences.

The 59-year-old Leopold was among 3 students at the University of Puerto Rico who received honorable mentions for scholarship.

The 3, plus a Puerto Rican student at Notre Dame, were runners-up for an $1,800 fellowship in science offered by the foundation.

Dairy Industry Praised For 'Remarkable Job'

"The dairy industry, in general, has done a rather remarkable job in keeping pesticide levels in dairy products to a minimum," a Federal Food and Drug official declared here Tuesday.

Alfred Barnard, director of the Kansas City District of the Federal Food and Drug Administration, made the statement at the 23rd annual meeting of the Nebraska Butter Institute.

Barnard said the statement was based on results of random sampling of both fluid milk and manufactured dairy products for pesticide and antibiotic residues.

"During the 1961-1962 fiscal year, we examined almost 800 samples of fluid milk and over 2,200 samples of manufactured dairy products for pesticides. Only 4 samples, 3 of manufactured dairy products and one of fluid milk, revealed pesticide residues at levels regarded as actionable.

Agricultural Extension workers are working closely with dairy producers, processors and distributors in an effort to make the industry a more profitable one in Nebraska, according to E. W. Janike, director of the NU Agricultural Extension Service.

"Since dairy production is highly competitive, it is necessary to produce a high quality product efficiently," Janike said.

Butter Institute Tabs John Neu

John Neu of Hartington was elected president of the Nebraska Butter Institute succeeding P. A. Downs of Lincoln, professor emeritus of dairy husbandry at the University of Nebraska.

Neu

Neu was elected to the position at the 23rd annual meeting of the institute held on the University of Nebraska campus.

Other officers elected at the meeting include: Clyde Stone, Lyons, vice president; Dr. L. K. Crowe, member of the NU Department of Dairy Husbandry, secretary-treasurer; and Verne Moore, Omaha, managing director.

The following were elected to the board of directors:

Emil Babka, Ord; Stacey Barker, Aurora; Everett Burley, Randolph; Chick Knotek, Holdrege; Boyd Hartsook, Lincoln; Axel Hagensen, Fremont; John Hospodka, Verdigre; Ove Oakeson, Newman Grove; Aage Petersen, Battle Creek; S. L. Kelly, Lincoln; and B. A. Downs, Lincoln.

Harris Is Bound Over In Slaying Of Omaha Grocer

Omaha (AP) — Leon Harris, charged with first degree murder in the March 2 slaying of grocer Ben Noodell was bound over to District Court without bond Tuesday.

He appeared at a preliminary hearing in Municipal Court before Judge Simon A. Simon.

A witness at the hearing was Mrs. Luvertia Green, 52, who testified Harris and another woman had been drinking beer and whiskey the day of the slaying. She said Harris returned to her apartment about 9 p.m. with a pack of beer.

Later in the evening, she said, he slipped a "little, black short gun" into her handbag, along with a roll of bills and some change.

She said Harris later told her he had killed Noodell and told her "that any one who snitched on him would get the same thing."

Celebrations Set

Brainard — The annual Brainard Old Home Festival will be held Aug. 31-Sept. 1. Another Butler County celebration will be Bruno's Diamond Jubilee Aug. 23-25.

Moore Honored For His Efforts

A man who has been active in the Nebraska butter industry for over 50 years and in the Nebraska Butter Institute since its founding in 1941 was honored here Tuesday noon.

Verne Moore of Omaha was honored as "Mr. Butter Institute" at the 23rd annual meeting on the University of Nebraska campus. He was cited for his "years of service, untiring efforts and loyalty which are an inspiration and a challenge to all who work with him."

Because of his interest and enthusiastic support of cream quality improvement projects, Moore has served continuously as chairman of the institute's cream quality committee. In 1960, he was appointed managing director of the institute.

Lincoln's Power Ends

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Unless things are going on about which nobody knows, the City Council is running a lot of risk in its current actions relating to the electric power situation in Lincoln. With no plan whatsoever in mind, the council has thrown aside an agreement of long standing with the Consumers Public Power District covering competition for new customers. This was done with council orders to Public Works Director D. L. Erickson to do whatever necessary to transfer two city operations from Consumers to the City Light Department.

The two operations, the sewage treatment plant and the 51st St. Pumping Station, constitute a combined $62,624-a-year customer. Additional study will be given to the same kind of transfer for Pershing Municipal Auditorium, a $11,633-a-year customer. These actions constitute a cause of very great concern for the people of Lincoln. To begin with, these operations of the city have been serviced by Consumers in the past because it was the most efficient way of doing things. How come the situation has suddenly changed and at the exact time that some interest groups are out to remake the power situation in Lincoln in their own image?

A Matter Of Timing

The power situation in Lincoln needs some changes but if anything has ever been bungled, this is it. Consumers has been lied about, browbeat, insulted and just about everything else that could be done to hurt its public image and to beat it in the state Legislature.

The people should not forget that Consumers is a public utility — it belongs to the people of Lincoln. Consumers, of course, is composed of human beings and is no saint, either, but the situation that is developing in Lincoln is the primary and direct responsibility of the City Council.

★

The council has acted without giving Consumers even the decency of a reply to its last communication containing a number of suggestions for improving the operation in Lincoln. The council has acted even before it has received a recommendation from its Advisory Power Board which it recently reactivated, enlarged and charged with certain tasks. If the council isn't now acting on the sly with quiet approval of the board, that board should be highly insulted. It has not yet given the council one single recommendation and yet, the council has made at least one major policy decision and is on the brink of making another.

The council is rapidly becoming its own worst enemy by destroying public confidence in its intentions and its abilities.

The second area of action in which the city appears about to become engaged is a lowering of industrial rates to the level of Omaha's. This is a further declaration of open competition with Consumers which has proposed a lowering of industrial rates but not to a point as low as the Omaha rates. Why was this kind of customer and rate competition halted a number of years ago? It was halted because it is costly, because it leads to useless duplication and because it is a case of the people fighting themselves since they own both the city and Consumers operations. This is like a husband and wife fighting over ownership of the family home, the car, who will pay the bills, etc.

For Lincoln and Consumers, it involves the construction of duplicate transformers and power lines and duplication in maintenance and servicing of accounts. This is the thing we should be seeking to eliminate but the very thing the council is encouraging.

It is going to cost millions for the City Light Department and Consumers to provide Lincoln with the integrated system the people want and deserve. Why is not the City Council working toward this integration with Consumers in the best interest of the people? Has the city dedicated itself to the destruction of Consumers even without consideration of what might be accomplished on a friendly basis toward acquisition for $1 of all Consumers property in 1972?

It will take not only money but some years to completely integrate the Lincoln electrical system. Why then, is it so essential that we acquire Consumers this minute, or try to, and in the process run the risk of an explosive competitive situation that will cost the people of Lincoln perhaps millions of dollars? We seem to forget that Consumers is also a legal entity, just like the city, and cannot and will not be tossed around like some kind of rag doll. And how can Councilman Robert Fulton argue that the city needs power revenue when the city at the same time is considering an industrial rate reduction of as much as 26 to 30 per cent?

No Need For Haste

To put it bluntly, the City Council is making an unmitigated mess of the power situation and had better call a halt to its rash actions before it is too late. If this keeps up, the people wouldn't vote for the city to take Consumers if they were paid to do it much less if it were an even-up deal. Lincoln had better decide upon a plan of action before it so embitters the people that the best of plans wouldn't have a chance.

An End To Controversy

No one expects miracles from the operation of a penal complex by Penitentiary Warden Maurice Sigler. Sigler has now been given the job of running as a single business both the Penitentiary and Reformatory. Both institutions are the same in one respect — they are intended as places of incarceration for the criminal element of our society.

This is a role which Warden Sigler does not forget. But he also knows that these institutions are more than this. It is no trick to lock up a human being for a prescribed period of time and make sure he doesn't get away. But that is only a beginning to things.

To begin with, there are all sorts of criminals. Some are highly dangerous while others are no more dangerous, from a life-and-death point of view, than a lot of people on the loose who never have and maybe never will see the inside of a penal institution. To treat them all alike is ridiculous if not actually impossible.

Penal inmates still are human beings and must be treated as such, for our own good even if we lack all humanitarian considerations. Sigler also knows this and likes to run an institution to the maximum benefit of all concerned — the state, the general public and the inmates.

We fully expect that between now and the next session of the Nebraska Legislature two years from now, Mr. Sigler will address himself to providing Nebraska with just such a penal complex. If he does, it will require an investment of tax funds in programs, personnel and physical plant facilities but we have made this organizational change, whether we know it or not, because we have grown weary of the alternative. State Institutions Director George Morris could not have found a better man than Mr. Sigler for the job that needs doing.

Court Protects Rights

In a five-to-four split decision, the U.S. Supreme Court has struck a blow at indiscriminate legislative investigation into private groups. Specifically, the court knocked out a Florida contempt conviction against an official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People who refused to furnish a membership list to that state's legislature.

The legislature was looking into possible communist infiltration into the Florida branch of the NAACP. The court said that "groups which themselves are neither engaged in subversive activities, nor demonstrated to have any substantial connection with such activities, are to be protected in their rights of free and private association."

The dissenting opinion was to the effect that the majority decision will undermine legislative investigations into communist affairs. It makes it impossible, said the dissenters, to deal with the subversive nature of communist influence.

The weakness in the dissent is found in the stature or prominence it gives to suspicion. It is difficult to see how the court could have arrived at any other majority decision. Even the closeness of the vote is surprising. In effect, the court simply said that mere suspicion is not sufficient grounds for such legislative investigations.

It might be argued that suspicion should be enough since the investigation would show the innocence of the accused if such were the case. The trouble is that an investigation is an incriminating thing in itself. Once an organization is investigated, it bears a mark that is never fully erased even with a clean bill of health from the investigating agency. The public is too prone to subscribe to that old saw about fire with the smoke.

Goring The Other Ox

A report by the Washington Post on the affairs of Rep. Ben J. Jensen, Iowa, Republican, would appear to put the representative in a somewhat embarrassing position. Jensen is the head of the GOP budget-cutting group in the House but was singing a different tune at a House committee hearing on the Interior Department budget.

The Post reports that at a recent news conference advocating budget-cutting, Representative Jensen said he was sure members would be willing to forego new projects in their districts to save money. But a transcript of the committee hearing showed Jensen as advocating the expenditure of $20 million not even in the budget to, as the Post put it, "make sure hunters in his area don't run out of ducks."

Jensen wants the money given to Canada for building of reservoirs and dams to restore nesting places so more ducklings will survive to come winging down the Missouri River flyway. Jensen could argue that the proposal serves a large block of midwest states rather than just his own district but it is still a piece of special interest legislation.

The situation shows the hypocrisy with which the budget-cutters so often approach their task. The vast majority of the time, these cutting advocates are in there pitching for some pet project of their own. They want the budget cut, all right, but where somone else will bleed, not they. It is pretty hard to justify, in our thinking, $20 million for ducks to be spent in Canada and cuts in reclamation, aid to education, school lunches and the many other projects so frequently placed on the chopping block.

Capital's Crime Rate Now At Record High

WASHINGTON — Official figures of J. Edgar Hoover and the police show that last month robberies in Washington increased 25 per cent over February, 1962, and that the robbery rate this year is even outstripping that of 1962 which set an all-time record, most of the incidents being street robberies.

Most tragic development is the high percentage of robberies committed by teenagers, plus the fact that the juvenile delinquency rate is 13 per cent higher in the District of Columbia than the average for other large urban areas of the United States.

One tragic juvenile crime last month was the murder of a night watchman by two eleven-year-olds. They shot him with their father's gun in order to get the guard's gun — a technique they had learned from watching television.

☆ ☆ ☆

Gov. Brown, who is worried over both boxing casualties and capital punishment in California, should read over the reports of the Senate Juvenile Delinquency Committee and note the relation to TV-viewing and increased juvenile crime. Perhaps he could do something to change the TV gangster, blood-and-thunder crime stories at the source—Hollywood.

While it's true that crime TV is ordered by network executives on Madison Avenue because they pull high ratings, nevertheless it might be possible for California censorship to take a stand against TV films which increase the juvenile crime rate.

☆ ☆ ☆

In Washington such organizations as the Boy Scouts, Police Boys Clubs and Big Brothers have waged an uphill battle to combat juvenile delinquency. But in addition to TV crime, they have to combat divorce, broken homes, slum conditions and crowded, inadequate schools. Finally they have to combat publicly lethargy. Big Brothers, which applies the principle of picking one man to advise one boy, has a waiting list of about thirty boys for qualified men willing to take the time to work with them.

Under Washington's unique system of government in which Congress and White-House-appointed commissioners sometimes battle for control, the juvenile court for years limped along with only one judge. This was because one congressman from Georgia, Jim Davis, was opposed to more judges.

The people of Georgia have now retired Davis and sent an alert, broad-gauged substitute, Charles C. Weltner, to take his place. So Washington now has more juvenile judges. But this problem was solved by the people of Georgia, not by the people of Washington.

JFK Disappointed In Clay Committee

WASHINGTON — The Clay Committee, whose critical report on foreign aid has thrown Washington into an uproar, is not quite a duplicate of the original Eisenhower cabinet of eight millionaires and a plumber, but its majority is as clearly gold - plated. Its plumber, AFL-CIO President George Meany, simply gave up the unequal struggle in committee, as his lone, highly generalized dissent shows.

Politicians who will be called upon to support the President's program make two points.

One, they complain that the Clay report has made it harder for them.

Second, they raise the question of why the President expected anything different when he weighted the Clay Committee so heavily on the business and conservative side. The numerical advantage is only six of ten, but the six are genuine heavyweights when it comes to money problems, all well seasoned in the rugged practice of their art.

☆ ☆ ☆

Perhaps the President counted too much on their internationalist sentiments at this point. While foreign aid has never been politically popular, it is the size of the budget deficit, various monetary problems and the uncertain future of the tax bill which today make an aid program so vulnerable.

If the President is, as some cynics suggest, attempting a political coup by deliberately arranging for conservatives to take the rap for foreign - aid cuts, he may have overreached himself. Given such a send-off, Congress might well cut the muscle of the program.

Gen. Lucius Clay, it may be added, has been to the political wars before. He was one of the architects of the Eisenhower nomination and election.

What the White House appears to be doing now is to try to quell the storm. It is reported to be unhappy and disappointed by the committee conclusions. Yes, it feels that the strictly business aspects were overstated. But it suggests that the report is murky, sometimes ambiguous.

Its plan of action now includes a public hearing in a sympathetic forum, Senate Foreign Relations, when General Clay will be asked to explain himself. Hopefully, the idea is bruited that the level of discussion there will be on a higher plane than the general's interviews and press interpretation.

☆ ☆ ☆

The President cannot be blamed for an effort to improve the climate surrounding foreign aid. Sen. J. William Fulbright, Foreign Relations chairman, has warned him that Congress might cut a million dollars unless persuasion was stepped up from somewhere. But something went wrong: Kennedy must now argue first against his own committee.

The governmental question involved is whether the President can govern back of public opinion committees or must fight it out on a clear administration line.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Labor Seeking Some Answers

DETROIT—It is not hard to find in this city that gave President Kennedy 70 per cent of its vote in 1960 a deep disenchantment with the Kennedy administration.

Persistent hard-core unemployment—up to seven per cent in the Detroit area despite a boom in the auto industry with the average rate twice that for Negroes—is one of the principal reasons. The President's promises to "get things moving again" are recalled with an edge of bitterness.

The more moderate leaders in the United Auto Workers, the spark plug of the Democratic party in Detroit, temper this by saying that probably too much was expected of the young president. They are aware also that deep-seated trends within industry—notably automation—affect employment in such a way that government programs can have little impact.

UAW economists point to production figures to show what this signifies. In 1947 the industry turned out 4,800,000 cars and trucks with 626,000 production workers. In 1962 the production figure was 8,200,000, the number of workers 559,000, representing a 70.4 per cent increase in production, 11 per cent decline in employment.

☆ ☆ ☆

Almost no one on either the labor or management side believes that President Kennedy's tax cut proposals will work any real change in the unemployment picture in the auto industry. The UAW advances a more drastic program for a reduction in withholding which would give a family of four an additional $26 a month in spending money immediately. This would go into installment payments on new consumer goods and the effect on the economy would be felt at once. The program adds up to a $10-to-$11-billion annual tax cut.

Industry executives such as Theodore Yntema, vice president for finance for Ford, who have been close to the committee for economic development, favor the CED program of a quick across-the-board cut of $6 to $7 billion. The President's program of $10 billion spread out over three years is widely criticized as too little and too late.

How much the disenchantment may mean in '64 is likely to be determined by events still to come and especially by the rise or fall of the economy. You can hear those who worked hard for Kennedy three years ago saying that a lot of voters will stay home on election day. They see a trend toward a more conservative and cautious pre-FDR Democratic party that cannot enlist the loyalty of the activists of the recent past.

☆ ☆ ☆

At the same time a split has developed in the Democratic party in the state. On one side are the UAW activists backing John Swainson, defeated for re-election by Republican George W. Romney. They feel that Swainson, who may try again next year, got less than fair treatment from the Democratic organization both nationally and statewide.

On the other side are able political managers such as Neil Staebler, elected as representative-at-large last November, who believe that open control of party machinery by the labor wing will inevitably damage the party's chances. It was by a tacit union of several factions with no evidence of UAW domination, the union blessed by the folksy personality of G. Mennen (Soapy) Williams, that the Democrats won election after election in a state that had been considered a Republican preserve.

If the split develops, the chief beneficiary will be Governor Romney. He talks a kind of non-political politics, seldom in his campaign last fall mentioning the Republican party, that seems welcome here after so much feuding between a Democratic executive and a legislature dominated by the GOP.

Romney is remembered, too, for being the only auto executive who, as head of American Motors, went along with UAW's Walter Reuther on a profit-sharing plan. For UAW production workers that plan in 1962 meant a total of $9,760,907, an average of $361 for each man employed by the company. If General Motors with its $1.5 billion of profit last year had had profit-sharing, it would have meant $900 a man, at Ford $700 a man and Chrysler $82.

☆ ☆ ☆

But the big three have successfully thus far resisted the UAW demand. And that points to a date next year at least as significant for Michigan as the November election. On September 1 the UAW contract with the motor companies expires and the union is said to be readying a series of demands aimed at the loss of employment through automation and at profit-sharing.

Both Romney and the President could be caught in the cross-fire of a struggle going down to a strike between the big companies and the industry-wide union. In '60 Kennedy carried the state by a majority of 67,000 out of 3,300,000 votes cast. With high prosperity and the religious issue adjudged laid to rest, the belief is that as of today he would increase his majority. But with an industry and a union with a high explosive potential, a great deal can happen in the intervening months.

Views Asked

Lincoln, Neb.

Now is the time for candidates for City Council and the mayor's office to make their views known on several controversial issues, such as:

Are they willing to have the voters vote on and decide whether or not Lincoln should have a closing ordinance?

Do they believe the city should take over other governmental agencies such as the Airport Authority and Consumers Public Power District without voter approval?

Are they afraid to trust the judgment of the voters on these issues and think their own judgment would be better?

Also, do they approve or condemn the secret sessions behind closed doors where the news media and the public are barred, such practice being engaged in by our present administration?

Now is the time for the candidates to stand up and be counted on these issues. The voters have a right to know.

Medical Progress

Hastings, Neb.

Does the College of Agriculture of the University of Nebraska think more of Nebraska's livestock and agricultural products in general than the College of Medicine thinks of the health and well-being of Nebraska's citizens? The answer is "yes!"

Consider this: The College of Agriculture has a well established agriculture research station located on the site of old Fort Robinson in northwest Nebraska. But not content with that station, in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Agriculture it wants to get at least 10,000 acres of land at the Naval Ammunition Depot at Hastings as a starter for 35,000 acres for a research station.

And what is the College of Medicine doing? Dragging along at a horse-and-buggy gait in this age of progress. Oh, yes, there are plans to build a 200-bed hospital in Omaha to be used in connection with the University Hospital. And citizens who live in central Nebraska and those who live in western Nebraska will continue to travel anywhere from 150 to 400 miles to get to Omaha.

One would like to read that officials of the medical college had applied for land for a research station. Surely the College of Medicine, in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare could get land at the NAD to establish such a center that could not be equaled anywhere in the world. Nebraska physicians who talk much about the vaunted Kerr-Mills medical care plan should have no objection to such a center.

Of course, I am speaking about a subject concerning human beings, so I realize that what I may say carries no weight. But if I were a farmer and had a sick hog or cow, the U.S. Department of Agriculture would be very much disturbed about it.

One thing is certain. If members of the American Medical Association and members of the Nebraska Medical Association do not move at a faster gait than they have for the past 20 years, Nebraskans will demand that government hospitalization, medical care and surgical care be extended to them as well as to veterans.

Local Products

Newark, N.J.

When I lived in Nebraska, I advocated improving the standard of living in that hard-working area. I urged the introduction of more fresh sea foods, vegetables, meats, and the growing of them preferably on Nebraska soil.

There was a local advertisement here for steaks, sirloin or rib at 65 cents a pound, and porterhouse at 75 cents. This was a bona fide offer. I see no reason why the small towns on west to Chadron cannot supply all the citizens with these nourishing victuals at the prices mentioned.

Nebraska seems to be making a better showing in the matter of traffic deaths. The last reports show that the state is saving three lives per month as compared to the national record. During the coming months, we should explore every means to cut down the total.

Rate Reduction

Lincoln, Neb.

If I am elected mayor, I shall direct the energies of that office toward reducing the city's industrial electrical rates. I am in favor of reducing this rate by 27% in order to meet the Omaha rate. There is no quicker or better method for attracting more industry to Lincoln than having cheaper power rates.

If Omaha, with its built-in operational hazards such as hilly terrain and worse weather, can sell kilowatts for 27% less than Lincoln, then certainly we should compete by offering the same rate to our industrial users.

Pro-Civil Rights Senators Named To Senate Judiciary Subcommittee

Washington (AP)—Three pro-civil rights senators were named by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., to the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee that handles this type of legislation.

Eastland, chairman of the full Judiciary Committee and himself an all-out foe of civil rights measures, appointed Sens. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, D-Mass., the President's brother; Birch Bayh, D-Ind., and Hiram L. Fong, R-Hawaii.

The addition of these 3 would appear to tip the subcommittee, headed by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., in favor of the civil rights program recommended by President Kennedy.

In the last Congress there was a precarious balance, with Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., playing a key swing role.

Two vacancies were opened up on the subcommittee by the election defeats last fall of Sens. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis., and John A. Carroll, D-Colo., both civil rights supporters.

Eastland not only filled these two vacancies but added an additional member, increasing the subcommittee's size from 8 to 9.

For years the full 15-member Judiciary Committee has been a dead end for civil rights legislation. With Eastland as chairman and other powerful southern Democrats as members, this could still prove to be the case despite the reshuffling of the constitutional rights subcommittee.

Appointments also were announced to the antitrust unit of the Judiciary Committee that could put a curb on its operations under the chairmanship of Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn.

The subcommittee's investigations of the steel, drug, electrical and other industries have kindled sparks not only with big business interests but also with the parent judiciary committee.

Sen John L. McClellan, D-Ark., a conservative southerner, was appointed by Eastland to replace Carroll, who consistently lined up shoulder to shoulder with Kefauver. Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., was named to replace Wiley on the antitrust unit.

The new lineup is 5 Democrats to 3 Republicans, with McClellan in position to join with the GOP members to create deadlocking ties in the future.

EXTENSION OF FEED GRAINS PROJECT OKD

Washington (AP)—A permanent extension of the voluntary feed grain program, with slight modification, was approved Tuesday by a House agriculture subcommittee.

The action, in executive session, reportedly was taken on an 8-6 party line vote. The program is expected to be considered by the full Agriculture Committee next Tuesday.

Under the proposal, the secretary of agriculture would be given authority to set both the amount of the direct payment involved and the amount of land to be diverted from production of feed grains — corn, grain sorghum and barley.

The subcommittee — approved measure would set the price supports at from 65 to 90% of parity. This is the same range as in present law.

Satellites Helping Predict Twisters

Washington (UPI) — The Weather Bureau told Congress Tuesday that it is getting much closer to predicting tornadoes by using weather satellites.

S. Fred Singer, director of the National Weather Satellite Center, said that in the last few months scientists have found that there is a "good chance" of determining which cloud formations have tornadoes in them.

Singer told a House space subcommittee that it is now possible to pinpoint the location of clouds within 3 or 4 miles from photographs sent from Tiros weather satellites. The time element also can be determined within a few minutes, he said.

Singer also said the Weather Bureau soon may be able to predict the breakup of ice on the Great Lakes and other places, which would be of great value to shipping.

The Weather Bureau official also reported that the government soon will test an automatic picture transmission system which would provide a ground observer with a satellite TV picture of his immediate area. He called the development "instant weather."

"Any ground station within broadcast range of the satellite can receive the picture if it has a very simple and inexpensive antenna, receiver and facsimile recorder," Singer said.

He said the information would be useful for short-range weather forecasts of perhaps an hour or so. The Defense Department and the Weather Bureau already have procured 40 ground stations for the system. Other countries could benefit from the new system, he said. They would need only to set up low-cost ground stations.

"The capability to observe local weather should be particularly important for the tropical countries," he said. "These countries suffer from the absence of a well-developed meteorological service, as well as a lack of weather stations and a good communication system."

He told the congressmen that this was "a great contribution the United States can make to the general welfare of the world."

However, some of the lawmakers wondered aloud if the same system might be of military value to the Russians. Singer said the Weather Bureau already had checked on this and the Pentagon told it not to worry about the problem.

Singer said the construction and launching of a similar weather satellite system is "probably one of the immediate Soviet aims."

Anti-Gaullists, Police Clash On Algiers Battle Anniversary

Paris (AP) — Thousands of anti-Gaullist demonstrators clashed with police in Paris and other cities Tuesday on the first anniversary of a well-remembered street battle in Algiers.

More than 40 person, half of them police, were reported injured in free-swinging, rock-throwing melees across the nation.

The day's violence in symbolic remembrance of the loss of Algeria was apart from current strikers' attacks on the de Gaulle government.

Police arrested a number of demonstrators and seized handbills of the secret army underground, which opposed Algerian independence and now seeks to get rid of President de Gaulle.

Most clashes broke out in cities with large colonies of French settlers from Algeria, and in nearly every case coincided with memorial services to settlers shot dead by French troops on downtown Algiers' Rue d'Isly a year ago. The French troops said then the settlers had fired upon them first, but the incident has become a subject of sustained and impassioned controversy. The anniversary demonstrations emphasized the spread and solidarity of the ex-settlers' opposition to de Gaulle.

Paris police arrested at least 6 demonstrators after a throng that attended memorial services in historic Madeleine Church began marching on a French war memorial. The marchers shouted anti-de Gaulle slogans and sang the "Marche des Africains," a rallying chant of French settlers in Algeria.

In Marseille more than 3,000 persons crowded into and around a church near the old port section of the city for a mass for the Rue d'Isly victims.

On leaving the service, many in the crowd marched on the center of Marseille and ran into police roadblocks.

A series of fights broke out. Shortly before 9 p.m. police dispersed the crowd.

In Montpellier, near the Mediterranean west of Marseille, police and young Europeans from Algeria clashed as the youths sought to march to a war memorial to lay a wreath.

Similar incidents occurred in Toulouse, Perpignan, Lyon, Nice and Grenoble.

Death Sentence Voted For Kroegers

San Francisco (AP) —Execution in the gas chamber was voted by a jury Tuesday for Iva and Ralph Kroeger, convicted of strangling a couple and burying the bodies in their basement.

If the verdict is carried out, the tongue-wagging, 44-year-old grandmother and close-mouthed, 61-year-old Ralph will be the first husband and wife to die in San Quentin's execution chamber.

They were convicted of murder after 11 weeks of trial.

To get control of a Santa Rosa motel, the state charged, they strangled Mrs. Mildred Arneson, 58, in December, 1961, and her arthritic, estranged husband, Jay, 71, the following January. Both were buried under concrete in the basement of the Kroeger home here. The bodies were not discovered for more than 6 months.

Mrs. Kroeger, who tongue-lashed the prosecutor and judge frequently in one of the stormiest murder trials in San Francisco's history, turned to her husband on hearing the verdict and shrieked:

"He didn't do anything!"

The jury took 7 hours and 15 minutes to reach the penalty verdict.

Previously the superior court jury had decided both were guilty and then, in a separate trial, that Iva was sane when the crimes were committed.

During the trial Mrs. Kroeger once had to be carried screaming from the court. Another time she fell into a stupor which an examining doctor later said was self-induced by a trick of deep, rapid breathing.

Dyna-Soar Contract To Boeing

Seattle (AP)—The Boeing Co. has been given a $358,076,923 contract by the Air Force for the design and manufacture and testing of the Dyna-Soar manned space glider, Washington's senators said.

Sens. Warren G. Magnuson and Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., reported from the nation's capital the award defines the cost of the glider portion of the program through its completion late this decade. Boeing has been working on it more than a year.

The senators said the contract covers air-drop tests from a B52 "mother ship" at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., and orbital flights from Cape Canaveral, Fla., expected to begin in 1965.

A separate contract with the Martin-Marietta Corp. will cover the booster phase of the Dyna-Soar project. The delta-winged glider will be hurled aloft by a Titan III rocket built by Martin.

Magnuson and Jackson said the Boeing contract does not preclude the possible cutback or scrapping of Dyna-Soar by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

McNamara has begun a review of the Dyna-Soar program to determine if it duplicates much of the research work planned for the National Space Agency's two-main Gemini project.

He recently visited the Boeing plant here and NASA's manned space center at Houston, Tex. Pentagon sources said a decision might be as much as 6 months away, however.

Rocky Nixes Knight's Group Pushing Him For President

Albany, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said Tuesday he "deplored" the action of former Gov. Goodwin Knight of California in setting up a Rockefeller-for-president organization in that state.

Rockefeller, considered a leading candidate for the GOP nomination to oppose President Kennedy next year, told a news conference that the Republican Party should concentrate now on achieving unity and select its candidates at a later date.

The governor said Knight's move was "an unauthorized action, one that I deplore." Asked whether he repudiated the Knight movement, Rockefeller replied:

"I don't know how I can go any further."

The governor said he had conferred by telephone Tuesday with 3 other California Republican leaders — former vice president Richard M. Nixon, former U.S. Sen. William Knowland, and former Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco — and had told them of his feelings on the development in their state.

Rockefeller said they agreed that the first task for the Republican Party in California was strengthening its forces, not deciding on candidates for next year.

The governor said there were other potential candidates to be heard from before a decision was made. He said they included U.S. Sen. Barry Goldwater, Nixon and Govs. George Romney of Michigan and William Scranton of Pennsylvania.

Gas Tax Reallocation Moved

A bill which would reallocate gasoline tax funds among cities and villages on the basis of the 1960 census was reported to the floor of the Legislature Tuesday on a 6-0 vote of the Revenue Committee.

The measure, LB726, does not apply to Lincoln or Omaha.

As amended, the bill also incorporates provisions of LB725, changing the basis for distribution of motor vehicle registration fees to cities and villages from number of registration certificates to population.

Revived By Terry

LB725 had previously been withdrawn by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, but he revived the issue and received support from the County Treasurers Association.

In other action, the committee advanced on a 6-0 vote LB671, proposing a constitutional amendment which would authorize homestead exemptions for paraplegic and multiple amputee war veterans.

LB726, sponsored by Carpenter, triggers a change in gas tax allocations by wiping out present provisions requiring allocation on the basis of the 1950 census, and substituting "the most recent federal census."

Under the complicated gas tax formula, cities containing a population of 2,500 or less receive 10 cents per person. Cities of from 2,500 to 25,000 receive 15 cents per person. Such funds are taken from a county's share.

As a result of LB726, the committee was told, 47 counties will experience an increase in gas tax revenue.

And "money will flow from small towns to larger (mostly first class) towns," according to Edward Carter Jr., representing the County Officials Association.

Carter urged an interim Legislative Council study of the matter.

'Most Recent Census'

L. K. Emry of Lincoln, speaking for the Railroad Shop Crafts, supported the bill, noting that "if we are going to use a population basis, we ought to use the most recent census."

Sen. Dale Payne of Papillion told the committee that LB671 is needed because many of Nebraska's paraplegic war veterans are undergoing such financial hardships that "many may lose their homes because of taxation."

Forty-five men would be affected by the bill, he said.

Consumers Public Power Sends 71 Counties $764,000 In Lieu Of Taxes

Columbus — Assistant Treasurer C. W. Prentice of Consumers Public Power District announced that his office mailed checks totalling $764,277 to 71 Nebraska county treasurers for the last half of 1962 in lieu of tax payments and the 5% gross revenue tax.

Lancaster County's treasurer received the largest amount of the current tax payment totalling $223,421. The Lincoln city treasurer received $9,931 for the last half of the in lieu of tax payments.

This tax money, according to law, must be distributed by the county treasurers.

Morrison Pep-Talks Economics

Gov. Frank Morrison gave a timely pep talk on his proposed State Department of Economic Development to the Chamber of Commerce business expansion committee Tuesday, only a short time after a bill setting up such a department was introduced in the Legislature.

Morrison stressed that the department "is not going to cost anything" to create, and "we would get far more for our money from a concentrated effort, than through subdivided procedures."

He called the development of the state's economic potential "in many ways the No. 1 problem in the state" and the essential step "if we want to hold our population and provide work opportunities for our displaced agricultural workers."

Tourist Sidetrack

Branching out to include the need for tourism promotion, Morrison said that present planning was "sidetracked over to the Game, Parks and Forestation Commission" when only about 15% of the tourists are looking for recreation, fishing and hunting.

He noted that "we could pump millions of dollars into the state's economy merely by keeping Nebraska people at home, enjoying the benefits of their own state" during their vacations.

Comparing what Nebraska spends on economic development and research with that of other states, the governor likened the state's effort to "putting up a shack on O St. and trying to compete with downtown stores."

NU Budget Backing

Regent Clarence Swanson added a plea to the group to back the University of Nebraska at budget hearings.

He asked the governor: "If we could get the Budget Committee to increase the university budget by $2 or $3 million, would you veto it?"

The governor's answer was: "Yes, I might on grounds that it was not enough."

Fellowship To Speech Head At Wesleyan

Prof. Harold Sampson of Nebraska Wesleyan University has received the $4,000 Woods Graduate Fellowship award for 1963-64.

Sampson, director of speech and forensics, will be given a leave of absence for study next year toward his doctorate degree.

The speech department vacancy will be filled by Henry Blanke, who will join the Wesleyan staff next fall as director of theater.

Dr. Philip Kaye, chairman of NWU's speech department, will assume direction of forensics during Sampson's absence.

The fellowship program is supported by the Woods Foundation, Inc., of Chicago and Lincoln.

53 Brazilians Arrested Enroute To Hate Rally

Rio de Janeiro (UPI)—Police Tuesday night arrested and jailed 53 Brazilians trying to cross Guanabara Bay to attend a Communist "hate America" rally in Niteroi.

Police nabbed the group, members of Francisco Juliao's Peasant Leagues as their bus was about to drive aboard a ferry boat. A police spokesman said some were armed with knives.

"They are going to remain in jail some time," he declared.

The Communists moved the site of their rally across the bay into Rio de Janeiro State after the Guanabara State government decreed it could not be held in the city of Rio.

Only 500 persons showed up, most of them from Niteroi, and Congress Chairman Luis Gonzaga Leite blamed the poor turnout on what he called "Fascist measures" of Guanabara Gov. Carlos Lacerda.

In his opening address to the congress, Gonzaga Leite charged the United States is planning a new invasion of Cuba.

The meeting place for the Red rally was switched to Niteroi only hours before its scheduled start although the sponsors had declared they would seek a court order to hold it in Rio.

Rio de Janeiro State Gov. Badger Silveira, a member of the leftist-controlled Brazilian Labor Party, said the Communists would be provided "with all constitutional guarantees." Niteroi is only a one-hour ferryboat ride from Rio.

Police Surround

Believed to be a factor in the Communists' change of plans was the fact the Brazilian Press Association Building here, original site of the rally, was surrounded by steel-helmeted police long before the hour set for the congress opening.

The federal government, which previously had authorized the meeting although negotiating at the time with the United States on a multi-million dollar aid package, indicated a hands-off role in the showdown between the state governor and the Communists.

Clay Center Public Meet Set April 5

Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Clay Center — A public meeting to appraise local sentiment toward a U.S. Department of Agriculture livestock research center has been scheduled for Friday, April 5.

The date was set by members of a "protest committee"—most of whom now appear to have reversed themselves. Approximately a dozen Clay Center and Fairfield citizens attended the session which called for the mass meeting.

"Nearly all of those present now favor the proposal," said attorney S. W. Moger, "but we felt obligated to let the public express themselves."

A second meeting had been promised when USDA officials outlined the proposal a month ago. Citizens urging return of Hastings Naval Ammunition Depot land to farmers asked for time to study the plan.

Moger said an actual ballot probably will be taken April 5 at the evening session. Presumably, the majority will decide whether to invite the government facilities.

DAR PRAISES PRESERVATION OF HOUSE UNIT

The Nebraska Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR), at a banquet Tuesday night, commended Congress for preserving the House Un-American Activities Committee. The committee was called "vital to the security of the United States."

Also commended were the various Nebraska news media for their DAR coverage. The Nebraska Centennial was promoted, as was the investigation and development of sites of historical interest in Nebraska.

Other resolutions commended the Clay Committee's foreign aid study, opposed Communist expansion in the Western Hemisphere, urged a national program of bell-ringing on July 4, and supported a congressional move to make February American History Month.

Sandra Dee Has Separated From Husband Darin

Hollywood (AP)—Sandra Dee, 20, one of Hollywood's top 10 box office stars, announced Tuesday that she has separated from actor-singer Bobby Darin.

The announcement was made through her studio. A spokesman said: "That's all we know. She just called up and said they were separated."

Darin is appearing at a casino at Lake Tahoe, Nev. Miss Dee recently went on a vacation alone to Honlulu.

The two met in 1960 at Portofino, Italy, while making a movie.

They married two years ago last December. They have a 15-month-old son, Dodd Mitchell.

PIN-WORMS
AND NOT KNOW IT

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

TOGLIATTI . . . praised

Russ Hit Chinese By Lauding Italian

Moscow (UPI) — The Soviet Communist Party underlined its dispute with Peking Tuesday by warmly praising Italian Communist Party leader Palmiro Togliatti, the target of special Chinese attack.

Pravda, the Soviet Party newspaper, in a published congratulatory telegram from the central committee and a special editorial marking Togliatti's 70th birthday, called him a sincere and loyal friend of the Soviet Union.

It said he "is intolerable to revisionist distortions and sectarian doctrinarism," and a steadfast defender of Marxist Leninist unity and proletarian internationalism.

The Chinese, in a scathing editorial attack on Togliatti last Dec. 31 said he was leading the Italian communist movement to positions of "subordination to imperialism."

County Probation Officer Quits Post

Lancaster County commissioners Tuesday accepted the resignation effective June 1 of Robert Blanshan, juvenile probation officer.

Blanshan, of Walton, who has been with the juvenile office for 6 years, said he plans to move to Minnesota.

5 At Wesleyan U. Are Initiated Into Physics Honorary

Five students have been initiated into the Nebraska Wesleyan University chapter of Sigma Pi Sigma, national physics honor society.

They are: Marie Magnuson, Gordon; Duane Catlett, Shickley; Ronald Jones, Hastings; Robert Morton, Doniphan, and Wayne Sechrist, Lincoln.

Three associate members—Leslie Brabetz, Gering; Sam Cowan, Kearney, and Ladd Prier, Lincoln—were also received, according to Chapter President Don McClure, Papillion.

All Officers Re-Elected By Feeders

Tri-County Livestock Feeders Association members from Otoe, Saline and Lancaster Counties re-elected all officers and directors at their annual meeting in Lincoln Tuesday evening.

Officers for 1963 are: Elmer Schlaphoff of Waverly, president; Maurice Wallen of Unadilla, first vice president; Frank Runty of De Witt, second vice president, and Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly, secretary-treasurer.

Activities planned for the year will include a feeder calf clinic with instruction on cattle buying and handling for the feeder members, while a meat clinic will be held for member's wives to aid them in their food selection, said Schlaphoff.

In reviewing the past years' activities, Schlaphoff reminded Tri-County members that their association was the first feeder group in the state to hold a beef evaluation clinic.

Johnson: 'Administration Urging Has Cut Space Agencies Duplication'

New York (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson said Tuesday night that the Kennedy administration has successfully encouraged the military and civilian space agencies to avoid duplication and waste.

Johnson, chairman of President Kennedy's space council, said in a radio-television interview that "although at time they appear to be duplicating each others efforts, we have worked out agreements, encouraged them to work them out, that would avoid duplication and avoid waste."

He described it as a "highly successful operation."

Johnson also said he is "confident that in the 60s, that we will put a man on the moon."

Will Do Good Job

"I am not in a position to say now who will get there first," he said. "I think that we are going to do a good, constructive, responsible job in this field." The Russians also are trying to get a man on the moon.

In a reminiscent mood Johnson recalled that one of the 3 biggest decisions of his career was to recommend an accelerated space program in 1957 after Russia put its sputniks into orbit.

"Some of the members (of the Democratic congressional caucus) laughed at the suggestion," he said, "I was rather widely ridiculed in the press.

"One of the most prominent men in the country said that he felt we should let Lyndon Johnson occupy outer space and he would keep his feet on the ground.

"But out of that we wrote the space act, that I introduced, and it is now the law of the land."

Johnson said that the other decisions he considered the most important were to urge Congress to extend the draft in 1941 3 months before Pearl Harbor and to push for civil rights legislation in the Senate in 1957.

Urged Letter

He said that when it appeared doubtful that the House would pass the draft extension he suggested that Secretary of State Cordell Hull be asked to write a letter to Congress urging passage.

Johnson said that the Speaker of the House, the late Sam Rayburn, "with some doubts, I think, about the wisdom of the suggestion I had made," read the letter to the House just as the debate was closing.

The House passed the bill by one vote, he said, "and our Army was not sent home in August before Pearl Harbor in December."

Mansfield Lauds McNamara In Fight With TFX Probers

Washington (UPI) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield emerged from the White House Tuesday with high praise for Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara in his battle with TFX warplane investigators.

Mansfield said in reply to a newsman's question that the TFX contract dispute was not discussed during President Kennedy's weekly meeting with House and Senate Democratic leaders.

But then, echoing the President's recent plaudits for McNamara, Mansfield volunteered a statement of endorsement on behalf of the embattled former Ford Motor Company executive.

"I think we all recognize that the secretary of defense has done an outstanding job in his two years in office," the Senate Democratic leader said. "We have all the confidence in the world in his discretion, his integrity and his ability."

Mansfield's statement came during a 24-hour pause in the Senate investigations subcommittee's inquiry into McNamara's award of the multi-billion dollar plane contract to General Dynamics Corp.

The subcommittee postponed until Wednesday scheduled testimony by admirals and generals on the Source Selection Board, the Defense Department military group which recommended that the contract go to the Boeing Co.

Subcommittee Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said there was no special significance in the delay, that he was busy on other matters.

Dear Abby

Leave Your Family Out Of It

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 29 years old and have been married ten years. About a year ago I started seeing a young girl who lives in a small town near here. She is in trouble now and it's my fault. My wife and I have one eight-year-old son and we were told my wife can't have any more children. I told her I knew of a girl in trouble who wanted to give her baby up and asked my wife how she would like a new-born baby. She was thrilled. I called the girl and told her I'd pay all her expenses if she'd let me have the baby. The girl agreed, but said she would have to leave town pretty soon to await her baby. I'm afraid if I let the girl come here for her confinement my wife will find out the whole story. But then, if the girl goes somewhere else, she might be talked out of giving us the baby. Can you advise me in a hurry please?

NO NAME

DEAR NO NAME: Pay for the baby and help its mother adopt it out, if that is her wish. But leave your wife and family out of it. One such mistake is enough in one lifetime.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: What should a girl do when a boy she dates makes a date to pick her up at 7:30 and he doesn't show up until around 8:30? My mother says I should keep him waiting for me just as long as I had to wait for him. I don't want to get him mad at me because I really like him. Do you have a better solution?

KEPT WAITING

DEAR KEPT: Chronic lateness is nothing more than proof in living color (usually blush pink) that the late one is disorganized. Don't fight fire with fire unless you want to sacrifice the relationship. Let the boy know you are hurt, and ask him to try to be more prompt.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: About the "worried mother" who was concerned because her 16-year-old son kept peeping across into the neighobr's window where two teen-aged girls have their bedroom: I agree with the father. It's only natural for a normal 16-year-old boy to look. What boy his age wouldn't like the chance? Instead of the mother peeping on her son, to see if he's still peeping on the girls, she should tell the girls' mother to put a shade up and see to it that the girls pull the shade down. Then the audience will know the show is over.

UNWORRIED FATHER

BRIDES

Adding to the series of prenuptial courtesies honoring Miss Jeri Ostiguy preceding her April wedding was the miscellaneous shower held last Sunday evening when Miss Ellen Granata and Miss Barb Henderson were cohostesses at the home of Miss Henderson. The evening hours were spent informally, and the guests included former high school classmates of the honoree.

Miss Ostiguy, who will become the bride of Robert Oaks on April 16, also was honored on Sunday afternoon at a party for which her fiance's aunts were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Arnie Hart. The guests, all feminine members of the family, presented a personal shower to the bride-elect.

Last Wednesday evening, members of a club of which Mr. Oaks' mother, Mrs. Wilbur Oaks, is a member, presented a miscellaneous shower to the bride-to-be at a party held at the home of Mrs. Layke Howett. Assisting Mrs. Howett as hostess was Mrs. Virgil Mohr.

Miss Ostiguy also was honored last Tuesday evening, March 19, when Mrs. Charles Seymour of Bennet, Mrs. Robert Clifford and Mrs. Vinton Cheuvront were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Cheuvront.

During the evening, a pantry and grocery shower was presented to the honoree by the guests, all feminine employees at Union Bank. Also included among the guests was Miss Ostiguy's mother, Mrs. J. H. Ostiguy of Des Moines, and her fiance's mother, Mrs. Wilber Oaks.

An April bride-to-be who is revealing plans for her approaching wedding is Miss Virginia Carol Hardy, whose marriage will be an event of Saturday, April 13.

Miss Hardy, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hardy of Fairbury, has chosen Mrs. Ted Hardy, Fairbury, as her matron of honor for the ceremony, which will be solemnized at St. Paul Lutheran Church in Beatrice.

The bridesmaids will be Miss Aldene Eisenhauer, Fairbury; Miss Carolyn Rice, Manhattan, Kan.; and Miss Sharon Mihulka.

Serving Mr. Mohling as best man will be Larry Church, and seating the guests will be Alan Rada, Omaha; James Arndt and Richard Helscher.

State DAR Presents Awards

The 61st annual state conference of the Nebraska Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, closed Tuesday evening following the formal banquet and address by Dr. Robert Manley of the University of Nebraska faculty.

The annual presentation of awards was made by the state chairmen, and honored as the State Good Citizen was Miss Karla Clark of Lincoln, student at Southeast High School who was named winner of the organization's annual essay contest earlier this spring.

Accepting awards were (from the left) Mrs. O. L. Erickson Jr., Kearney, Outstanding Junior Member of 1962; Mrs. Lloyd Frank, Kearney; Original Program Award; Mrs. J. Carroll Bobbitt, Omaha, CAR Award; Miss Karla Clarke, and Mrs. Robert V. Denney, Fairbury, in charge of the junior membership contest.

Club Hears Guest Speaker

Mrs. Matt Wylie of Elgin and Mrs. George Syas of Omaha were hostesses Monday afternoon to the Nebraska Unicameral Ladies Club.

Following the luncheon at the Hotel Cornhusker, Dr. Richard W. Gray of the Lincoln State Hospital spoke to the group.

The clubs guests included Dr. and Mrs. Gray, Mrs. Richard H. Larson, Mrs. David Tews, Mrs. James L. Brown, Mrs. Stanley Matzke and Miss Phyllis Samuelson, all of Lincoln; Mrs. W. D. Alf and Mrs. Edwin R. Miller, Omaha; Mrs. John Beaver, Columbus; and Mrs. H. K. Diers, Gresham.

Why Grow Old?

Thoughts Of Hair Coloring

Josephine Lowman

Not long ago I read that some scientific studies indicate there will be fewer and fewer (natural) blondes from here on. (This will be good news to a lot of women.) The studies expressed the belief, too, that brunettes, as a general rule, have better health and more personality than blondes.

The whole thing was a surprise to me because it seems to me that today many more women are turning blonde than are turning gray. If these studies had come up with the idea that grayheads are on the way out, it would have been easier to believe.

Hair rinses and dyes are so greatly improved that it really is often difficult to know whether or not a woman uses hair coloring. The question of whether or not to take advantage of dyes is, of course, a very individual matter. Gray hair can be extremely smart looking and it is most becoming to many women.

However, it makes some women feel older. I think it depends on the woman's own feeling about it as well as on her coloring. My main suggestion today is to do something about gray hair if you really want to, and leave it alone if you don't, but do not be timid about it.

You may want to try a rinse instead of a dye. If your hair is completely gray, this will not cover as successfully as a dye. However, if your hair is only partly gray, rinses are most effective. They cover and blend so that the whole effect is lovely. There are rinses which wash out with each shampoo and there are others which last for several weeks.

If you have your hair dyed, avoid either black or red unless your hair is naturally one of those colors. Be sure that the shade is neither coal colored or brassy looking. A smart operator can avoid this today.

As a general rule, have your hair colored one shade lighter than it was naturally.

Opening lead — five of hearts.

In nearly every case when the declarer takes a finesse, he hopes to win the finesse, but there are some occasions when he earnestly hopes the finesse will lose.

Here is an example of such a situation. South is playing three notrump and West leads a heart. Declarer wins the king with the ace and decides that the best way to tackle the hand is to lead a low diamond and finesse the jack.

If East has the queen and takes it, South is assured of at least ten tricks, since he can later overtake the king of diamonds and run dummy's long suit. That is why he hopes the finesse will lose.

This method of play—taking a first round diamond finesse — has the further advantage that declarer may still win six diamond tricks if West was dealt the Q-x of the suit. In that case, when South later plays the king and West's queen appears, he can well afford to overtake the king with the ace.

Let's assume that East is a good defender and does not take the jack of diamonds at trick two. In that case, declarer leads a club and finesses the queen. (Of course, this time South hopes the finesse will succeed.)

When the queen wins, declarer leads the king of diamonds and overtakes with the ace. He now finesses the jack of clubs, cashes the ace, and leads still another club. East takes the king and can cash his queen of diamonds if he wants to, but, regardless of what he does, South makes ten tricks consisting of two spades, two hearts, two diamonds and four clubs.

Note that if declarer plays the king and another diamond after winning the opening heart lead he runs into serious trouble and eventually goes down one or more tricks. The immediate diamond finesse is easily the best play, since it assures two valuable entries to dummy if the finesse wins, or five diamond tricks of it loses.

Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem. The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It's the coolest kind of girdle for summer wear, feels like nothing on but has such slimming strength it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim" is the peak achievement of the designer-genius, Olga.

FUN NEWS IN SUBURBIA

PERSHING HEIGHTS

In Spring a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love—love of the great outdoors that is, and a birds-eye view of Suburbia last weekend would have proved our point. Young and old alike were out basking in the warm sunshine and we have a suspicion that many Suburban residents looked a little pink when evening arrived.

Last weekend was also the time to try out that new barbecue grill or to unpack last year's model.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lee, for instance, entertained last Saturday evening at a barbecue at their Pershing Heights home for Mr. and Mrs. Ken Myers of Rapid City, S.D.

Mr. and Mrs. Myers arrived in Lincoln last Wednesday to visit with Mrs. Myers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Antes, and left for their South Dakota home yesterday.

Another Omaha visitor in Pershing Heights this past weekend was Miss Diane Mussfeldt who was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Wilhelm.

Miss Mussfeldt arrived last Friday and returned to Omaha on Sunday.

COTNER TERRACE

Barbecues more than flourished last weekend in Suburbia for we have another one to report—the one for which Mr. and Mrs. Francis Dorenbach were host and hostess when they entertained Mrs. Dorenbach's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. anp Mrs. James Holstein and their children, Susan, Janice, and Roxanne of Omaha.

The Holsteins arrived last Saturday evening and returned to Omaha on Sunday.

With all of the outdoor sports in which everyone has been engaged during the past few days, we almost have forgotten about our indoor activities — and that is, of course, bowling. Mr. and Mrs. Don Hubbard spent part of last weekend entertaining Mr. Hubbard's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Traubel of Beatrice, and the remainder of the weekend was spent watching Mr. Traubel bowl in the state bowling tournament at Hollywood Bowl.

Birthday honors this week go to Miss Cynthia Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Williams. Young Miss Williams celebrated her 12th anniversary with 20 of her sixth grade classmates at Pershing School this past Saturday afternoon.

And since we seem to be on the subject of Pershing School, we will mention out of town visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Ward who arrived in Lincoln last Friday to attend Pershing's open house.

Touring the school with Mr. and Mrs. Ward were Mrs. Ward's mother, Mrs. Ed McGaugh of Burr; her sister, Miss Dot McGaugh, and Miss Alta Rogers, both of Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dirks of Sterling.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward will be host and hostess again tonight when Mr. and Mrs. Dirks will motor back to Lincoln from Sterling for dinner.

NORTHEAST HEIGHTS

And never a week goes by that we don't have a relaxing game of bridge.

Mrs. Ted Marshall entertained her monthly bridge club recently when she entertained at a luncheon. On hand for luncheon and bridge were Mrs. Dave Schuman, Mrs. Jim Folsom, Mrs. Harold Staberg, Mrs. W. S. Staberg, Mrs. Ray Anderson, Mrs. Ed Pavelka, Mrs. Howard Luedtke, and special guest, Mrs. Tom Novak.

A housewares party was on the agenda for the members of Northeast Heights recently when Mrs. Loren W. Wilson entertained several of her neighborhood friends. Special guest for the evening was Mrs. Audine Haller of Lincoln.

HOLLYWOOD HEIGHTS

With all the news of incoming visitors to Lincoln these past few weeks we were beginning to think that no one from Suburbia was venturing out—but this is not the case.

On April 1, Paul Munson will be traveling to New York to attend a bankers' meeting. Mr. Munson will be away three days.

FIENE HEIGHTS

Another member on the travel list in Suburbia was Mrs. Gerald Ingram who, with her two children, Michael and Leigh, spent two and a half weeks visiting with Mrs. Ingram's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Randall, and Mr. Ingram's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ingram, in Kearney.

While Mrs. Ingram and the children were enjoying themselves as guests of relatives, Mr. Ingram was spending his two weeks at the Naval Reserve base in North Carolina.

KIMBERLY HEIGHTS

That spring traveling fever also has hit other regions of Suburbia within the past few weeks.

Mrs. Howard Frey and her daughter, Donna, motored to Red Cloud recently to visit with Mrs. Frey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Callahan.

Also motoring to Red Cloud were Mrs. Frey's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Callahan and their children, Connie and Jeannie of Wichita, Kan.

PRAIRIE VALLEY

New neighbors in Prairie Valley recently were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gorham and their children, Joni and Jay.

The Gorhams, who formerly resided in Eastborough moved into their new home on March 7.

CHATTER —in the— CORRIDOR

By ALICE WILLIAMS

Well another week has gone by and only a short time now until spring vacation. I know I am ready for it right now.

The Athletic Banquet was held last Saturday, March 23. At this the Athletic Queen and King were crowned by last year's Queen and King; Karen Clark and Jim Dick. Carolyn Knight, who is this year's president of Pep Club, was crowned queen; and Steve Butts, three year varsity basketball letterman was crowned king. The dinner before the dance was wonderful and a lot of hard work was put into it.

George Zarrins, basketball player, C. Dale Snook, varsity coach, and Dr. Paul Goetawski were the speaker. Everyone seemed to have a good time.

Last Saturday also was the day of the District Speech Contest. Two one-act plays were accepted. One, "Passion, Poison and Petrification" by George Bernard Shaw, received a superior rating. The cast included Phyllis, Donna Helgren; Magnesia, Linda Purbaugh; Sitzlottemache, Bill Miner; Adolphus, Morris Schopf; Doctor, Bob Paddleford; Landlord, Ross Brendle; Policeman, John Nollendors; Angels, Jane Wiechert and Gayle Smith.

The other play, "Shakuntala" by Kalidasa, received an excellent rating. The cast members were Shakuntala, Nancy Burling; Pryamvada, Sheryl Ehlers; King Dushyanta, Jim Carney; Mathavya, Jim DeMent. We also had five Tutors entered in individual competition. They were Steve Flader, Jack Moadaen, Jane Wiechert and Jim DeMent. Contratulations to all of these participants.

That's all the news from Uni. See you next week.

CAREER SHOP—SECOND FLOOR

POSTCARD by Stan Opplanalp

A breath of warm air came into the Cold War with Mr. Khrushchev's endorsement of cornflakes and potato chips.

It was too late for National Potato Chip Week (Jan. 15-25). But I called up the National Potato Chip Institute in Cleveland, Ohio, anyway. They are gratified—"They (potato chips) were nutritious, tasty and I would say even pleasant," said Mr. Khrushchev in a major speech.

"We think everybody should like potato chips," said the Institute spokesman. "However, this doesn't mean we are taking a political stand."

☆ ☆ ☆

There doesn't seem to be a Cornflakes Institute. On April 1, we begin Cereal and Milk Spring Festival.

This is announced by the Cereal Institute at 135 S. La Salle street, Chicago, Illinois. Its purpose is "to promote breakfast cereals as an important vehicle to get milk into the diet."

The Russian Chairman is not trying to get Russians to use more milk.

He wants them to eat more corn and potatoes. Even willing to admit they were invented in America. That's a break-through in itself.

☆ ☆ ☆

It was almost buried in the report but the newspaper Izvestia also came out for blue jeans. Same issue.

"They are the symbol of the working class and not that of the young loafer," said Izvestia.

This is the most interesting part.

Blue jeans have played a large part in my life. I could write an informative article on blue jeans for Russia.

For one thing, if a teen-age girl buys blue jeans, she should first soak them in salt water to get them that faded look.

Next she should put them on WET. Let them dry on and they fit you like wall paper.

That is the whole idea of blue jeans. I don't think that is handing the Russians any military secret.

☆ ☆ ☆

I made initial studies of blue jeans in Phoenix, Arizona, where they are absolutely the thing to wear among the tanned, visiting ladies.

They are shrunk to the lady so tight you can read her vaccination scar.

If she had a silver dollar in her pistol pocket, you could read the date.

There was a cleaning place in Phoenix at that time who would take your brand new jeans and, for a dollar, turn them a faded blue that was most desirable.

(If you do not have such a cleaner, put them in a bathtub with water and Chlorox. But you must keep sloshing them around. Otherwise they come out piebald blue.)

We have had some desperate times around my house fading blue jeans. I know these things from experience.

☆ ☆ ☆

Now most Russians won't know what to do with them after this bleach-and-form-fit process.

(Sometimes when you put them on wet to form-fit, you come out a little blue-colored on the legs. It wears off in a week.)

The next thing you do is cut them off kind of jagged. Cut them off just above the knees.

This gives you an outfit to wear to school that is The Most—or whatever is being said these days for superlatives.

Anyway, it is just what all the other girls are wearing. Makes your parents absolutely cringe to see you. And is better for your personal feelings than cornflakes.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Certainly babies should have some leeway in setting their own patterns in the matter of feeding and sleeping the first few months. But as baby grows toward a more settled routine, he should be gently steered toward a reasonable schedule. The baby who is guided toward good habits early, is less likely to rebel at more exacting regulations later.

•

High on the happy list of favorites for the little fellow on a full food schedule are combination dishes. (More ingredients, more flavor.) Gerber High Meat Dinners are bound to win any mealtime popularity contest. That's because these flavorsome casserole dishes are savory with extra meat. (3 times as much as regular vegetable and meat combinations.) Garden-good vegetables and subtle seasoning are added to the meat for truly sprightly flavor. Nutritionally, they're a good source of protein, offer significant amounts of vitamins and minerals. Strained or Junior varieties.

Toy trickery. If baby gets take-apart, put-together toys before he's manually ready to use them, let him play with the individual parts, provided they're not small enough to swallow.

•

Carriage cues. (1) A bright balloon or pinwheel, attached to the front of baby's carriage, will provide many happy looking moments. (2) A transistor radio, tuned sweet and low, will delight baby when he's awake . . . won't disturb him when he's a-snooze.

•

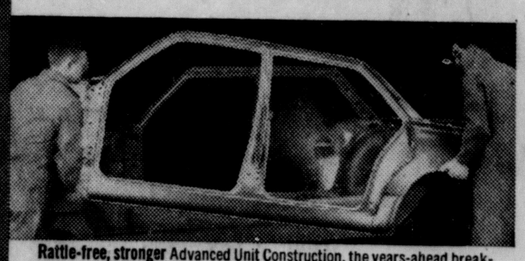
Mouth-watering memo. Fruits score high as baby favorites. Especially Gerber Strained and Junior Fruits. And for good reason. Gerber Fruits are cooked in a flash to preserve Mother Nature's appealing colors and sun-kissed flavors . . . and to protect precious vitamin values. Served "as is", they're scrumptious. When used as a topping for Gerber Cereals or Puddings they're super. Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

REPORT FROM MOTOR TREND EXPERTS ON THE '63 RAMBLERS:

"prove their mettle...reliability, performance in actual testing"

1963 Rambler Classic Cross Country Station Wagon

RAMBLER 6 OR V8 MOTOR TREND'S "Car of the Year"



Rattle-free, stronger Advanced Unit Construction, the years-ahead breakthrough in car building. Massive uniside replaces many small parts.

Safest stops. Double-Safety Brakes, "in effect, separate systems, one for front, one for rear wheels."

23.1 m.p.g. was averaged by the Classic 6 with E-Stick automatic clutch in 1,000-mile test.

MOTOR TREND Magazine's auto experts never handle the "Car of the Year" with kid gloves.

"We want to make sure the car is worthy of the title in performance, dependability, buyer satisfaction," they said.

They found that Rambler's Advanced Unit Construction is "so strong it'll take punishment longer . . . hold its resale value." They slammed Ramblers over back-country roads and reported, "rough roads can be stormed with confidence . . . there isn't any pitch or choppiness noticeable."

They applauded Rambler's styling, "lean, clean lines" . . . and Rambler's outstanding quality.

Of course, there were many other things they liked. They summed it up, "an even better value than before."

Omaha Mutual, College View Bank Bills Aired

Mutual of Omaha, one of the nation's major health and accident insurance associations, made a spirited bid before a committee of state legislators Tuesday for approval of legislation to facilitate a merger of Mutual with its companion firm, United Benefit of Omaha.

Aired at the same public hearing of the Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee, was a bill sought by the Union Bank and Trust Co. of Lincoln to permit it to establish an auxiliary teller facility within 7,500 feet of the main bank facility in suburban College View.

All measures at issue drew opposition, and because testimony ran for nearly 4 hours, the committee adjourned without taking action on the bills.

The companion Omaha insurance bills, LB660 and LB661, were introduced by Sens. William Moulton of Omaha, Kenneth L. Bowen of Red Cloud and Don McGinley of Ogallala.

Smooth The Way

As 9 supporting witnesses for the bills told it, the measures would smooth the way for a merger of Mutual of Omaha, a non-stock company with United Benefit, a stock company in which Mutual owns 68% of the shares.

Backers of LB660 and LB661 said that to compete with other insurance companies these days, Mutual must be able to offer health and accident and life insurance in "one package."

They said that while present law permits the merger of stock company with stock company, or mutual company with mutual company, it does not specifically provide that stock and mutual companies can merge. And although there are avenues for merger, federal income tax ramifications make them unfeasible.

'No Fantastic Price'

Richard Proud, representing Mutual, said Mutual is willing to pay a fair price for the outstanding shares of United Benefit but has an obligation to its policyholders not to pay "a fantastic price."

But Louis E. Lipp, Omaha attorney representing some of the United Benefit minority stockholders, contended that Mutual wants the right "to confiscate, to appropriate the stock of these minorities."

The banking measure, LB642, was introduced by Sens. Fern Orme and Marvin E. Stromer of Lincoln, and Jerome Warner of Waverly.

LB642 would amend a 1959 law which permitted banks in first class cities and larger to establish one detached auxiliary teller office within 2,600 feet of the main bank. Under LB642, in Lincoln only, such detached offices could be within 7,500 feet of the main bank.

Backers of LB642 said it was designed especially to take care of the Union Bank and Trust Co. in suburban College View.

Henry Grether, trust consultant for Union Bank, said it has "nowhere to go" with 2,600 feet to provide the auxiliary office which customers are demanding.

Cread Pettey, the bank's executive vice president, indicated the bank is eyeing some detached office location north of the present bank.

'Pandora's Box'

The opposition of the Nebraska Bankers Association was voiced by attorney Chauncey Barney, who said the step-by-step relaxation of the restrictions will "open a Pandora's box to a point where there is no stopping."

And former Sen. George Knight, of the Citizens State Bank in Lincoln, said the measure "may well be an entering wedge for branch banking," although Grether had insisted all safeguards against branch banking are retained.

Attorney Robert Guenzel, representing Gateway Bank, proposed that if the bill is going to be reported out, it be amended to eliminate all footage restrictions or in the alternate, extend it to 15,000 feet which would enable suburban banks to set up offices nearly in downtown Lincoln.

Sugar Scale Improvement Bill Approved

The Legislature's Agriculture Committee Tuesday approved a bill forcing sugar companies to improve their scales.

Heard earlier, it was held and was amended to exclude a requirement that sugar companies label their seed.

The measure was further amended for scale requirements to be installed no later than Jan. 1, 1967, instead of the original 1965 date.

Approximately 110 sugar beet growers turned out for the public hearing last Thursdat.

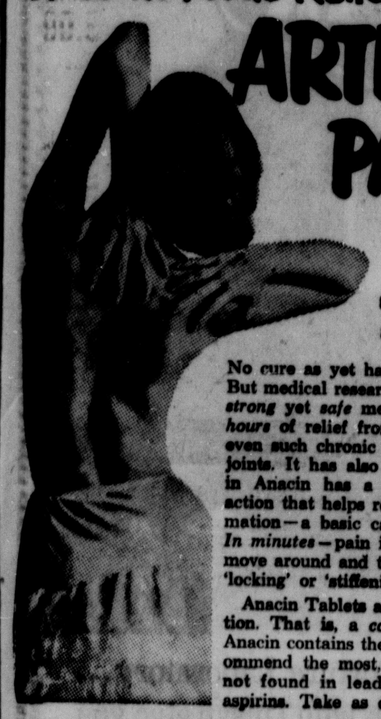
Strong Yet Safe—Gives Hours of Continuous Relief from Minor ARTHRITIS PAINS



Reduces swelling and inflammation so it's easier to move afflicted limbs again

No cure as yet has been found for arthritis. But medical research has established that the strong yet safe medication in Anacin® gives hours of relief from arthritis' minor pains—even such chronic pain arising from deep in joints. It has also been found an ingredient in Anacin has a special anti-inflammatory action that helps reduce swelling and inflammation—a basic cause of arthritis suffering. In minutes—pain is relieved so it's easier to move around and this helps keep joints from 'locking' or 'stiffening.'

Anacin Tablets are like a doctor's prescription. That is, a combination of ingredients. Anacin contains the pain reliever doctors recommend the most, plus an extra ingredient not found in leading aspirins or buffered aspirins. Take as directed.

School Bill Revival Pleases Audience

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Tuesday pleased a packed gallery of rural residents by reviving on a 26-14 vote a bill providing a time schedule for refusal of non-resident pupils by high school districts.

The measure, LB643, had been killed by a 4-3 vote of the Education Committee.

Rural residents jammed the balconies and the floor of the legislative chamber in a show of strength in support of the bill.

As drawn, the measure would prohibit any high school district from refusing admission to non-resident pupils for the 1963-64 school year.

Thereafter, pupils could be refused admission only after two years notice.

Cooling-Off

Sen. M. M. Forrester of Anselmo argued that the bill would thus provide "a cooling-off period" in which such problems could be solved.

In presenting the motion to raise the bill, Forrester said non-resident problems have created "agitation, strife and hard feelings" throughout the state, resulting in "hate and passion" which threatens to pit rural residents against urban residents.

LB643, Forrester said, allows the Legislature to determine "whether rural school districts are to be forced into reorganization."

Sen. Ross Rasmussen of Hooper, chairman of the Education Committee, opposed the motion, stating that the bill would "impose the state as a third party" in local education problems.

Local Level

"This is better determined at the local level," he insisted. "It is not the duty of the Legislature to resolve individual problems in specific districts."

Sen. Albert Kjar of Lexington also opposed reviving the bill, charging that it would impose "a one-way contract not fair to all concerned."

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff urged that the measure be raised, then amended to cut the two-year notice provision.

Thirty to 50 schools "will close their doors" if LB643 is sent to final reading, Sen. Clifton Foster of Bradshaw declared.

The bill would "make school problems much worse," promote inefficiency and create more high schools, he argued.

Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton secured from Forrester prior to the vote a pledge to accept amendments which would provide for a one-year notice both by the schools and non-resident pupils involved.

New Bill To Change State Cars' Looks

A bill under which all state-owned cars eventually would be painted the same color as State Safety Patrol cars and in addition carry a revolving red light on top was introduced in the Legislature Tuesday as LB768.

Also received—as LB767—was Gov. Frank Morrison's promised bill to create a new State Department of Economic Development to handle tourism, industrial development and state planning.

The governor's bill was delivered by Sens. George C. Gerdes of Alliance, Albert A. Kjar of Lexington and W. H. Hasebroock of West Point.

Morrison has termed the bill the most important piece of legislation he is proposing this session.

The plan to make all state-owned cars look like patrol cars was the idea of Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff and the bill was delivered by the Public Health Committee, on which Carpenter serves.

Carpenter said the plan might obviate the addition of more troopers to the State Safety Patrol.

The senator said motorists have a tendency to slow down when they spot a patrol car. If speed contributes to fatalities, then a speed reduction should save lives, he said.

Carpenter said it's an "experimental thing" but it could help the Budget Committee resist pressure for the addition of troopers to the patrol.

Col. C. J. Sanders, patrol chief, has asked for the addition of 85 patrolmen to the force, an addition which Carpenter has opposed.

Carpenter acknowledged that Col. Sanders did not like the car painting plan. Carpenter quoted Sanders as noting that a man and woman might be riding together in a state car which then might be mistaken for a patrol car and cast a reflection on troopers. But Carpenter said he asked Sanders if that was more important than saving lives and got no answer.

Carpenter said the cost of his plan would be minimal because only when cars are replaced would the color change be made.

Sen. Eugene Mahoney of Omaha made a brief floor speech supporting the bill introduction.

Only Sen. William Moulton of Omaha, speaker of the Legislature, voted against accepting the bill for introduction. The vote was 32-1.

Withdrawal Of Bill OK'd By Senators

The Legislature consented Tuesday to Sen. Terry Carpenter's withdrawal of his LB7, which would have put the State Highway Advisory Commission, now an advisory body, in executive control of the State Department of Roads.

Carpenter said the measure stands no chance of passage and it would be "completely impractical" to spend the session's time on it.

Legislative Bills Introduced

Bills introduced in the Legislature Tuesday:

LB767 (Gerdes, Kjar, Hasebrock at the suggestion of the governor)—Creating a new State Department of Economic Development to handle tourism, industrial development and state planning.

LB768 (Public Health Committee)—To have all state-owned cars eventually painted the same color as State Safety Patrol cars and to carry a revolving red light on top.

She will teach English and work the community in and around the capital city of Kabul when she assumes her assignment.

Sanitarian Standards Bill Is Passed

Nebraska's sanitarians will be registered with the state and be required to meet certain standards for registration under a bill passed 41-0 in the State Legislature Tuesday.

The measure, LB348, was introduced by Sens. Eugene T. Mahoney of Omaha and Fern Orme of Lincoln.

Sanitarians sought the measure as a device to bring recognition to the profession and to upgrade the profession's standards.

LB348 creates a Board of Registration for Sanitarians to be in charge of the registration.

New sanitarians, to be registered, would need to have a baccalaureate degree or higher and pass an examination given by the board.

Other bills passed Tuesday:

LB280 (Judiciary Committee) — Increasing from $2 to $6 per day and 5 to 8 cents per mile the fees paid district court and grand jury witnesses. (39-0).

LB277 (Judiciary) — Providing a manner of appeal to district court where the statute confers the right of appeal but fails to prescribe procedure. (41-0).

LB279 (Judiciary) — Providing that witnesses in civil cases cannot be compelled to attend a district court trial outside the state or more than 100 miles from home and authorizing payment of expenses to distant witnesses. (38-1).

LB274 (Judiciary) — Providing for judicial review of any final decision of an administrative agency. (40-0).

LB400 (Bahensky, Clausen) — Increasing state boiler inspection fees by the amount of $3 per inspection. (41-0).

$50.9 Million Highway Construction Program For 1963-65 Announced

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

Details of Nebraska's $50.9 million highway construction program for the 1963-65 biennium beginning July 1 were announced Tuesday by State Engineer John Hossack.

The program calls for work on a total of 972.2 miles of highway. This includes $29.4 million for construction on 436.6 miles of federal aid primary roads, and $21.5 million on 535.6 miles of federal aid secondary roads.

Included in the program are the construction of 128 bridges, 205 miles of high-type pavement, 555 miles of bituminous surfacing, and 100 miles of gravel surfacing.

Paved outlets will be provided 23 communities: Odell, Firth, Tobias, Ohiowa, Swanton, Liberty, Cordova, Beaver Crossing, Verdel, Primrose, Obert, Rockville, Ong, Oak, Huntley, Stockville, Ragan, Norman, Sumner, Comstock, Eddyville, Dickens and Naper.

A total of 465 miles will be converted to dustless surface roads during the biennium.

In addition to this work on the regular state highway system, Hossack said the department plans to obligate Interstate funds amounting to about $47.7 million during the two-year period.

He noted that the Interstate construction program is on a 13 to 15-year basis, and the size of the program is determined by the allocations of federal aid which provides 90% of funds.

Four Boxers Quit Ring As Result Of Moore's Death

. . . OHIO SOLONS WANT SPORT OUTLAWED ALONG WITH DOG FIGHTS, BEAR FIGHTS, COCKFIGHTS

By Associated Press

L. C. Morgan, once a high-ranking lightweight contender, and 3 other boxers have quit the ring as a result of the death of Davey Moore Monday.

In another aftermath of the death of the dethroned featherweight champion from brain injuries in his title fight with Cuban Sugar Ramos, 3 state representatives sponsored a bill Tuesday to outlaw professional boxing in Ohio, Moore's home state.

"Due to the unfortunate death of one of Ohio's outstanding athletes, we feel that professional boxing should come to a halt," they said in a joint statement.

"The Ohio Legislature has seen fit to outlaw dog fights, bear fights and cockfights. The least they could do is the same for humans."

The measure was offered by Reps. James Thorpe, James Hapner and Robert Netzley.

Meanwhile, it was announced in Ohio that funeral services will be held in Springfield next Saturday. The services will be conducted in the Mt. Zion Baptist Church at 1:30 p.m., with burial in Ferncliff Cemetery. The body will arrive at Columbus Wednesday and be taken to Springfield where Moore's parents live.

The former Olympian made his home in Springfield for many years before moving with his wife and 5 children to Columbus last year.

Morgan, 29, of Youngstown, Ohio, was a longtime friend of the late fighter. He had been scheduled to meet middleweight Bobby Pena of Mexico at Phoenix Wednesday night.

Phoenix promoter Paavo Ketonen said: "Morgan told me he had a wife and 3 kids and just couldn't take chances like that."

Morgan, whose 60 victories included 35 by knockouts, was a sparring partner for Luis Rodriguez, the refugee Cuban who won the welterweight crown on the same program in which Moore suffered his fatal injuries.

The other 3 fighters who hung up their gloves were heavyweight Willie Davis of Philadelphia, middleweight Aaron Peralta Santa Ana, Calif., and Chuck Tolliver of Los Angeles.

They were supposed to fight Monday night but they all dropped out of promoter Joe Louis' boxing show. They said they were quitting because of Moore's death.

But the show went on — and with almost tragic results.

Wilhelm von Homberg knocked out Pete Gonzales in the 3rd round of a 10-rounder. Both are from Los Angeles.

Because of Moore's disastrous crash into the ropes at Dodger Stadium, a thick foam rubber covering was applied to the strands. It saved Gonzales from possible serious injury.

Floored 4 times in the first two rounds, Gonzales went down hard in the 3rd round and the back of his head struck the lower rope. He was not hurt.

Nevertheless, the California commission lifted Gonzales' license on the ground of unfitness and also sidelined preliminary boy Lorenzo Torres for the same reason.

Cuba's sports czar, Jose LLanusa, blamed Moore's death on capitalism. In an interview on Havana Radio Tuesday, Llanusa said boxers will continue to die as long as commercial sports promoters want to make money. Only amateur boxing is permitted in Cuba, he said, and it "doesn't destroy men."

Cuba, for years, has been one of the liveliest boxing countries in the world.

In addition to Ramos, Cuba has another world boxing champion in Rodriguez. Both are refugees as is Doug Vaillant who meets lightweight champion Carlo Ortiz, Puerto Rican-born New Yorker in a title fight in San Juan, Puerto Rico, Saturday night.

In Manila, Justiniano Montana Jr., Asian vice president of the World Boxing Association, said Tuesday he regretted Moore's death but said he was opposed to banning pro boxing.

"What should be done is to adopt stricter rules as we are doing here in the Philippines," he said.

"If we outlaw the sport we'll just push it underground and it would be more dangerous because of lack of supervision."

Bishop John Wesley Lord, Methodist bishop of the Washington, D.C., area commented:

"The moral conscience of the American people has been violated by the useless slaughter of another American citizen in the prize ring . . .

"Surely this is a high price to pay for 'recreation' and it is time an enlightened citizenry demanded the end of this brutal 'sport' with its close relation to the underworld.

"What is a man worth? Well we kill for profit? For the few fighters who do survive the years of battering, the future holds only disillusionment and physical impairment. The time has come to put an end to this immoral and sadistic form of entertainment."

BRYANT MAY REFUSE TEST

Attorneys Tell Coach Not To Take Lie Test

. . . GEORGIA PROBE NEARING CLIMAX

Atlanta (AP) — Attorneys for Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama said Tuesday they had advised him against taking a second lie detector test about the Saturday Evening Post's football-fix charges.

Bryant was asked to take a new test by Georgia Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook, investigating the Post article which said Wally Butts, former Georgia athletic director, was in collusion with Bryant last fall. Bryant and Butts have denied the charges.

As the Georgia probe neared its climax, Alabama planned its own investigation and Atty. Gen Richmond Flowers of that state accused Cook of a "publicity play."

With U.S. Senate investigators sitting in, Cook and his staff questioned Commissioner Bernie Moore of the Southeastern Conference. Moore declined comment on the Post article but said he was continuing an investigation for the SEC.

Cook also asked Butts to take a second lie detector test and attorney William H. Schroder, representing Butts in a $10 million libel suit against the Post, said the request was under consideration.

On receipt of Cook's telegram, Butts sent this wire in reply:

"Telegram received. Have nothing to hide. Please contact my lawyer . . . I will do whatever he says since he has filed in court my lawsuit . . ."

Cook Not Satisfied

Butts and Bryant have said they took lie detector tests which showed they were innocent of the Post charges. Cook had said he was not satisfied with the tests and requested new ones.

In a statement issued at Birmingham, Bryant's attorneys said they had told the Alabama coach that further test would serve no useful purpose.

"Coach Bryant has taken the standard relevant and irrelevant question type polygraph test administered by a nationally recognized authority in the field," said Bryant's attorneys, William S. Pritchard Sr. and Winston B. McCall.

"The administering authorities reported under oath that Coach Bryant's answers to all questions were truthful and that no deception was indicated," they said. The attorneys said the test was given by a former FBI agent and a graduate and former lecturer at Keeler Polygraph Institute.

The action by Bryant's attorneys apparently meant Cook would not go to Alabama as planned. Cook had said his trip to interview Bryant and Dr. Frank A. Rose, University of Alabama president, hinged on what resulted from his request.

Cook was criticized by Flowers for not notifying the Alabama attorney general of plans to go into that state.

"I don't believe our officials have any objection to talking with Atty. Gen. Cook," Flowers said. "But I deeply resent the fact that this announcement was made through the press without any previous notification to my office or the office of the governor."

At Montgomery a 7-member legislative committee was organized to look into the Post charges for Alabama. Member Larry Dumas of Jefferson County said he hoped the investigation would "get at the bedrock of the facts."

Monday Target Date

Cook said tentative plans were for completion of the Georgia investigation in time for a full report next Monday to Georgia Gov. Carl E. Sanders who ordered the probe.

In his telegrams to Bryant and Butts, Cook asked for both to take polygraph tests by "an experienced and approved polygraph examiner" and to submit prepared statements if they wished.

Two more federal investigators joined Donald O'Donnell, chief counsel for the U.S. Senate permanent committee on investigations — which is looking into gambling in sports. O'Donnell refused to say whether he had found evidence of gambling in connection with the Post article.

One of the additions to O'Donnell's staff, he said, was from the general accounting office in Washington, D.C.

State investigators copied a batch of long-distance toll tickets delivered under subpoena. They indicated no witnesses were scheduled for questioning Wednesday.

Burnett's Story

In the Post article, George Burnett, an Atlanta insurance salesman, said he accidentally was cut into a long-distance call and overheard Butts give information on Georgia plays and players to Bryant 8 days before the Georgia-Alabama game.

Alabama won the game 35-0.

Burnett, his attorney said Monday, was paid $5,000, minus legal fees, for the information used by the Post.

Hawks Move Into Finals Of NBA West Division

Detroit (AP) — Veteran Bob Pettit and rookie Zelmo Beaty and Bill Bridges paced the St. Louis Hawks to a 104-100 victory over the Detroit Pistons Tuesday night and into the Western Division finals in the National Basketball Association playoffs.

The victory gave the Hawks the best-of-5 series against Detroit, three games to one, and qualified St. Louis to meet the Los Angeles Lakers, the regular season Western champions, in a best-of-7 set starting next Sunday afternoon in Los Angeles.

Pettit, who averaged just over 35 points for the series, dumped in 8 straight shots in the first quarter helping to send the Hawks in front 23-14. But the Pistons recovered, trailed only 25-24 at the period's end, and then Detroit moved in front 34-33 early in the second quarter.

At this point, Bridges took over, dropping in two baskets and 5 free throws as the Hawks went on top 52-39. Detroit again retaliated, reducing its deficit to 54-47 at halftime.

Beaty struck for 3 quick baskets in the first 2 minutes of the 3rd quarter as the Hawks zoomed in front 65-50. When Pettit ran into foul trouble and had to be benched, Beaty and Bridges, with their scoring and rebounding, combined to keep the Hawks ahead, 83-74, after 3 quarters.

The Pistons staged a last quarter spurt and, with Don Ohl leading the way with 4 baskets and a free throw, pulled to within two points with 6:30 left.

Two minutes later, with St. Louis still clinging to a two-point edge, Pettit dropped in 3 straight free throws and Beaty a basket taht put the Hawks 7 points in front and they held onto the finish.

Beaty and Bridges each scored 17 points and picked off 13 and 15 rebounds, respectively. Pettit also had 13 rebounds. Ohl topped Detroit with 32 points.

Cincinnati Wins East Semifinals

Syracuse, N.Y. (AP)—The Cincinnati Royals whipped the Syracuse Nationals 131-127 in overtime Tuesday night, winning the best-of-5 Eastern Division semifinals playoffs in the National Basketball Association 3 games to two.

The Royals now move on to Boston for the opening game of the best-of-7 Eastern final Thursday against the Celtics, who finished first in regular season play. The Eastern champion will then meet the Los Angeles-St. Louis Western Division winner for the league title.

The Hawks moved into the Western final against the Lakers by downing Detroit 104-100 Tuesday night.

Syracuse tied it in regulation time with 20 seconds left on a hook shot by Johnny Kerr, then had an opportunity to win it with 4 seconds left when the Royals' Oscar Robertson stepped out of bounds while driving for the basket.

The Nats worked the ball down court quickly with Chet Walker getting off the last shot at the buzzer. It rimmed the basket.

—REFEREE NOVAK KAYOED—

Von Erich Whips Pesek

Pershing Auditorium grapple fans — usually irked at Referee Tom Novak —were wishing Trainwreck had been around at the finish Tuesday night.

But Novak got skulled in the second fall of the Jack Pesek-Waldo Von Erich main event and had to retire via the Red Cross stretcher.

Summoned from the crowd to finish refereeing the donnybrook was Frankie Mancuso, the Omaha official who drove down for the grudge battle.

But most of the almost 2,000 fans wished Frankie had stood in bed after what happened to Pesek in the 3rd fall.

With the match standing at a fall apiece, and a new referee on the scene while Novak sniffed smelling salts in the first-aid station, Waldo gained a half Boston crab on Pesek in the corner.

Frankie quickly counted Pesek out, failing to note what almost every fan in the auditorium saw — that Von Erich was getting all his leverage by illegally pushing his feet off the bottom ropes.

The fans stormed ringside and Pesek stormed Mancuso, but the Von Erich victory was allowed to stand.

Pesek lost the first fall when he dove at Von Erich, missed and hurtled out of the ring. He was unable to answer the count after 2:15.

In the second fall, Waldo lunged at Pesek and Jack ducked. Von Erich sailed past Pesek, crashed into Novak and sent the referee hurtling head first through the ropes and onto the concrete floor where he logged some siesta time.

Pesek evened the match in 15:35 with his pet abdominal stretch.

In the semifinal Doug Gilbert took two falls from Mike Paidousis, formerly the Rebel, in a bruishing affair.

Bobby Managoff was awarded a decision in the special event when Big Bob Orton was disqualified after 20:45.

Guy Mitchell and Bob Geigel battled to a draw in the opener.

Next Pershing grapple show is slated for April 9.

New Event

One of the most interesting aspects of the outdoor track season will be the way fans and hurdlers take to the new Big 8 event.

Erased from the program for the first time this year is the 220-yard low hurdle event.

Instead Big 8 hurdlers will run the 330-yard intermediate hurdles. Two other additions—the hop, step and jump and the 3-mile run.

The switch was made last spring, effective this year, and the Nebraska Cornhuskers will incorporate the 330-hurdles in all their dual meets.

At the moment Fred Wilke — Big 8 indoor high hurdle champion — is the only Husker working on the 330-sticks. He'll run the longer race in addition to the highs.

"I saw the change coming for a long time," NU coach Frank Sevigne said, referring to the substitution of the 330s for the 220-lows. "After all, we were one of the few places in the world where they still ran the low hurdles."

Sevigne explains the new event this way:

"The action of installing the 330-yard intermediate hurdles is strictly a preparatory move for the 1964 Olympics. The boys will get a couple of years of experience at the 330-yard distance, than the transition to the 400-meter hurdles won't be so big.

"Every other country in the world includes the 400-meter hurdles on their program, and the U.S. is trying to get better prepared in that event."

Except for the distance and number of hurdles, the 330 and the 400 are identical. In both races the hurdles are 36-inches high; distance to the first hurdle is 45 meters or 49.213 yards; distance between hurdles is 35 meters or 38.272 yards. However, there are only 8 hurdles in the 330, compared to 10 in the 400-meter event.

Tough Finish

Nebraska's outdoor track has long been marked for the 400-meter hurdles so there will be no particular problem this spring. But the 330 will have a tough finish.

The event will start at the southwest corner — similar to the 440, 220 and the old low hurdles — and finish at the start of the straightaway coming out of the curve at the northwest corner.

With only 12-plus yards from the last hurdle to the tape, the 330-yard hurdlers will be pitching at the same time they're rounding the curve — which could lead to some exciting finishes.

Is there any secret to running the 330-yard intermediate hurdles?

"You bet there is—conditioning!" Sevigne reported. "You take a hurdler, make a quarter-miler out of him —plus putting 8 hurdles in front of him to boot. It's not an easy event, that's for sure."

New Post

From Boone. N.C., comes word that Frank (Dutch) Meyer, former Nebraska Wesleyan and Cornhusker athlete, has been named head baseball coach at Appalachian State Teachers College.

The Dutchman is also head wrestling coach — his squad went into the NAIA national tournament unbeaten —and a football assistant.

Hike In Permit Fees Advances

A bill which would increase hunting and fishing permit costs sailed through the Agriculture Committee Tuesday on a 5-1 vote.

The bill provides that the extra money be earmarked for acquiring, developing and capital improvement of public hunting and fishing areas and projects.

There was no opposition to the proposal, LB511, which would increase resident hunting permits from $2.50 to $3.50; resident fishing permits from $2 to $3; and combination permits from $4 to $6.

BAKER SIGNS PACT WITH LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles (AP) — Terry Baker, Oregon State University's All-America quarterback, signed a contract Tuesday night to play with the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League.

General Manager Elroy (Crazy-legs) Hirsch refused to discuss the financial terms of Baker's contract, saying it is Ram policy not to make public the players' salaries.

Kill Attempt On Snag Bill Fails

A bill to prohibit fish snagging in Nebraska waters survived a kill attempt in the State Legislature Tuesday.

Sen. George Syas of Omaha lost, 11-26, on a motion to kill LB621 as it showed up on select file, middle step on the path to final enactment.

He was voted down also, 16-22, on what he termed a "happy compromise," which would have permitted fish snagging during the winter months, Nov. 1 to April 1.

The tortured bill then was returned to general file on a 25-13 vote so Sen. J. W. Burbach of Crofton could get consideration of an amendment under which fish snagging in the Missouri River only would be permitted from Nov. 1 to April 1.

Fort Wayne Rips Knights By 7-1

Fort Wayne, Ind. (AP) — The Fort Wayne Komets defeated Omaha 7-1 Tuesday night, claiming the International Hockey League championship in the season windup.

Seven different Komets scored the winner's goals while Walt Bradley scored for the Knights in the second period.

The Komets will open playoffs here Friday with the 3rd-place finisher while the second finisher will meet 4th-place Omaha.

Minneapolis and Muskegon were sure of second and 3rd.

Athletic Rift Jeopardizes Track Meet

Los Angeles (AP) — Officials of the Coliseum Relays, a meet that annually draws the nation's largest track crowd, said Tuesday they'll decide next week whether to hold it this year.

They're caught in the middle of a jurisdictional fight between the established Amateur Athletic Union and the newcomer United States Track and Field Federation.

The federation has sanctioned the meet. So the AAU boycotting the younger group's meets, won't.

The relays, scheduled May 17 this year, usually draw upwards of 50,000 spectators. In past years it has had AAU sanction.

William M. Henry, president of the Southern California Committee for the Olympic Games, said Tuesday:

"It is hoped that the two track and field factions will resolve their difficulties and permit the world's great athletes to compete . . . as has been the case in the past.

"Ours is a non-profit organization and during our entire history we have contributed regularly many thousands of dollars to amateur athletics including the United States Olympic team."

Kelly Speaks At Hebron Banquet

Hebron — George Kelly, assistant football coach at the University of Nebraska, was the featured speaker at the Hebron High School athletic banquet here Tuesday night.

Kelly also showed the color movie of the highlights of the 1962 Nebraska football season.

Roland To Miss Spring Practice

Columbia, Mo. (UPI) — Halfback Johnny Roland, the Big 8 Conference's leading rusher last fall, will miss Missouri University spring football drills.

Ninety-eight players turned out for the opening of Tiger spring practice Monday, but Roland was not among them. Coach Dan Devine said the star Corpus Christi, Tex., athlete would "not participate in spring drills."

Roland recently was fined and given a suspended jail sentence in connection with a tire theft case. He is to appear later this week before a school disciplinary body.

The grid candidates went through light drills Monday. The first contact work is expected Saturday.

Candy Spots Is Strong Favorite

Miami, Fla. (AP) — Seven and possibly 8 3-year-olds are expected to oppose Rex C. Ellsworth's unbeaten Candy Spots in Saturday's $100,000-added Florida Derby, a check showed Tuesday.

Candy Spot and 4 others will carry 122 pounds each in the 12th running of the 1⅛-mile feature, with the others getting in under 118.

Candy Spots, who climaxed a California campaign by winning the Santa Anita Derby for his 5th straight triumph, remained a heavy favorite after a speedy workout Sunday when he went 7 furlongs in 1 minute, 24 2-5 seconds, with fractions of :22 2-5, :43 3-5 and 1:11 over the Gulfstream Park racing strip.

Oklahoma Aide Joins Cyclones

Ames, Iowa (AP)—Bob Ward, 35, assistant football coach at Oklahoma for the past 3 years, was named Tuesday to a similar post at Iowa State by Cyclone coach Clay Stapleton.

Ward was an assistant at Iowa State in 1958 and 1959 before he went to Oklahoma. He was a guard at Maryland and coached there for 6 years before first joining the Iowa State staff.

Ward, a line coach, replaces Lou McCullough, who resigned Monday to become an assistant coach at Ohio State.

Snider Taken Off Waiver List By LA

Vero Beach, Fla. (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers withdrew outfielder Duke Snider from the waiver list Tuesday after he was claimed by both New York teams, the Mets and the Yankees.

"Snider has been on the waiver list before," said Dodger General Manager Buzzie Bavasi, "and we had 5 other players on the list with him this time."

The Mets recently inquired about Snider and were told by Bavasi that he wanted 10 days before deciding what to do about the power hitter.

"The 10 days will be up next Saturday," Bavasi said, "and I won't do anything until then."

Ken Charlton Is Academic All-American

New Orleans (AP)—The nation's first Academic All-America basketball team, announced by the College Sports Information Directors of America features a starting quintet which averaged 19.6 points per game in the 1962-63 cage season.

The first unit is headed by West Virginia's Rod Thorn and Colorado's Ken Charlton, who also excelled in the classroom.

Other members of the scholastic honor group are Gerry Ward of Boston College, Art Becker of Arizona State and Raymond Flynn of Providence.

The first annual Academic All-America team was picked by coaches, sports writers and sports information directors. More than 70 players were nominated.

The 6-foot-6 Charlton averaged 19.4 points per game. An English literature major, he has a 3.2 (4.0 is straight A) scholastic average.

RAMOS TO CONTINUE WITH RING CAREER

Mexico City (AP) — Featherweight champion Sugar Ramos said Tuesday he will continue boxing despite the death of Davey Moore so he can make enough money to bring his two children out of Cuba.

That was the word from the saddened champ, who arrived here from Los Angeles, where last Thursday he knocked out Moore in the fight that resulted in the former champion's death Monday.

Clock Halted After Any Cage Violation

. . . NEW RULE ADOPTED

Louisville, Ky. (AP) — The National Basketball Rules Committee adopted a new regulation Tuesday that should make the game longer.

Beginning next season, the clock will be stopped whenever an official's whistle is blown on all violations. In the past, the clock has kept on running for such infractions as walking, double dribble, etc.

Cliff Fagan, executive secretary of the National Federation of High School Associations and secretary of the rules committee, said a survey showed the change may lengthen the game 12-15 minutes.

The committee also decided any delay in the game for adjusting a player's equipment will be charged to the team making the adjustment rather than to the officials. The purpose apparently is to stop faking by players who use equipment adjustments to gain timeouts.

The committee also authorized experimentation in two areas to see if further rules changes are practical. One is the elimination of the 5th foul as a disqualifying foul and the other to reduce the depth of the backboard at its lower end by about one foot. The purpose of this would be to cut down on hand injuries.

H. E. Foster of the University of Wisconsin was elected chairman of the rules committee, with Lyle Quinn of the Iowa State High School Athletic Association as vice chairman. Fagan will remain as secretary, with M. F. Sprunger as his assistant.

John Wooden, basketball coach at UCLA, was named treasurer and John Bunn, Colorado College, as rules editor.

Named to the executive committee were Kentucky coach Adolph Rupp; St. Louis coach John Benington; Western Ontario coach John Metras; and David C. Stubbs of Chicago YMCA.

Tiger '9' Close 2nd In 1st Poll

Tucson (AP)—Michigan is going to have its hands full repeating as NCAA baseball champion.

In the season's first poll, Collegiate Baseball newspaper has the Wolverines in the No. 1 spot—but not by much.

They're ahead of pitching rich Missouri by a scant two points—295-293.

And just 46 points separate them from the bottom of the first 10, a spot held by Texas with 249 points.

Others in the top 10: 3, Florida State, 289 points; 4, Florida, 283; 5, Oregon State, 274; 6, Arizona State, 273; 7, Santa Clara, 270; 8, Minnesota, 263; 9, Ohio State, 259.

The second 10 include Clemson, Wake Forest, Western Michigan, Mississippi State, UCLA, Oregon, Arizona, Ithaca, St. Johns and Holy Cross.

Voting is done by coaches from throughout the nation with points awarded on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis.

Prep Cage Tourney Success Key To Other NSAA Plans

By CONDE SARGENT
Prep Sports Writer

Two well-attended State High School Basketball Tournaments in a row have resulted in enough financial security for the Nebraska Schools Activities Association that member schools will reap more of the profit in the future.

The Association (NSAA), which handles all interschool activities with the basketball tournament its biggest promotion, drew $79,000 from last year's tournaments.

The 1963 receipts haven't been finalized but the total is expected to be in the same neighborhood.

Last year's large turnout for district, playoff, and state action was a record. It boosted the NSAA's yearlong profit to $22,792.26, also an all-time high.

The basketball tourney is the only profitable endeavor by the NSAA. The cage money offsets deficits from other championship meets.

The state tourney covers other expenses much in the same way that football income sustains other sports at Nebraska University.

The 1962 profit boosted the NSAA's savings to the point where its Board of Control began thinking of more returns to the schools.

Their first move, initated for this year's tourneys, was to refund an additional 5% to schools from receipts of the 64 district tournaments.

It amounted to over $6,000 and will send the total refund to all schools for this year to nearly $20,000. The NSAA drew 15% of the net income from each district this year; 75% went to participating schools and 10% to the host school.

The NSAA also made a 20% increase in travel payments to teams in the state tourney, boosting the one-way mileage figure to 50 cents a mile.

Other ideas to cut the NSAA's profit were discussed by the Board but not passed, according to C. C. (Tommy) Thompson, secretary-treasurer of the group.

"The board, I'm sure, has no thoughts of increasing our profits," Thompson said.

"We have worked on the idea that state tourney receipts would handle our operation for the entire year.

"Quite a number of years ago we decided to attempt to build up a nest egg so that we could operate at least one year without a cent of income.

Thompson says the Association's nest egg — in U.S. Treasury Bonds and Bills — is now around $75,000.

Last year NSAA expenses were $59,202.02.

"We didn't take as much from the tourney's this year," Thompson continued. "We've had some very complimentary reports on this."

Thompson said last year's state tourney was an exceptional year, adding that the recently completed 1963 meet might have been just as profitable, however.

There have been years when the NSAA lost money, he said, in contrast.

Profits from NSAA auditor's reports in recent years were: 1962 — $22,792.26; 1961 — $19,959.48; 1960 — minus $318.64; 1959 — $2,518.75; and 1959 — $2,131.48.

Thompson was appointed to his post by the Board of Control, 6 elected members representing each of the State Teachers Association districts.

Titans Plan To Change Name

New York (AP) — The new owners of the New York Titans plan such a thorough house-cleaning that they not only will replace Bulldog Turner as coach but even will change the name of the team, a spokesman said Tuesday.

"The syndicate is eager to wipe out the old image—that of a chronic, perpetually squabbling loser and replace it with one of dignity and success," the spokesman, who declined use of his name, added.

"Mr. Werblin is expected to make some important announcements next week about the general manager and the coach."

David A. (Sonny) Werblin of New York, a director of the Monmouth Park race track in New Jersey, is one of 5 men who 10 days ago bought the bankrupt American Football League club for $1 million.

A bankruptcy petition by the debt-ridden club had been filed by Harry Wismer, president and principal stockholder who listed liabilities at $1,341,000 and assets at $271,999.

"The new owners are men of affluence and cash, with a deep interests in sports," the spokesman said. "They are eager to make the many changes necessary to put the team on a winning basis."

Turner, former Chicago Bears center, was named coach at the end of the 1961 season to succeed Sammy Baugh, whose contract had another year to run. Turner also has another year to go on his contract, calling for $20,000 a year.

Sauer Retained

The Titan spokesman said one man in the Titan organization may be retained. He is George Sauer, former Navy, Baylor and Kansas coach, who served as general manager.

"Sauer is talking to the new owners," the spokesman said. "He seems to be one man in their good graces."

Publicity directors of the various American League clubs met in New York to discuss ways of promoting the young professional league through the various news media.

One of the points made was that the AFL teams might do better from a publicity standpoint if the players kept their shirts tucked into their pants and wouldn't let their socks fall down.

A representative for a major slick magazine said his editor often chose National Football League pictures over those of the AFL because of the sloppy dress of the AFL players.

"The NFL has a rule that shirts must be secured so they don't fly loose," one of the league's publicity men said. "I think we are supposed to have the same rule, but we haven't been as strict about enforcing it.

"Maybe the AFL will do better if our shirts don't fly loose so much."

Some are like beetles.

Some are like boxes.

Nobody really notices Volkswagens any more.

They're so well known, they sort of blend in with the scenery.

It doesn't matter what the scenery is, either. You can buy a VW in any one of 633 cities in the country. (Or in any one of 136 countries in the world.)

And that takes in lots of scenery. Deserts. Mountains. Hot places. Cold places.

Volkswagens thrive.

Hot and cold just aren't important. The VW engine is air-cooled. It doesn't use any water, so it can't freeze up or boil over.

And having the engine in the back makes all the difference when it comes to mud and sand and snow.

The weight is over the power wheels and so the traction is terrific.

VWs also get along so well wherever they are because the VW people make sure that their service is as good in Toledo as it is in Tasmania.

The only reason you can't buy a VW at the North Pole is that Volkswagen won't sell you one. (No service around the corner.)

New Surfacing To Be Torn Up

. . . FOR WATER MAIN

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Three blocks of Leighton, which was resurfaced last year with wheel tax funds, will soon be torn up to make way for a 20-inch water feeder main.

The City Council authorized resurfacing of Leighton from 63rd to 66th as part of the 1962 arterial street resurfacing program.

Less than a year later in March, the council awarded a $76,360 contract to Dobson Bros. Construction Co. to build a water main in Leighton from 63rd to 70th and in 70th from Walker to Aylesworth.

Public Works Director D. L. Erickson explained Tuesday that tearing up a portion of the newly-surfaced street "is only a minor expense as just two inches of new asphalt surfacing is involved."

Erickson said the water feeder main's construction was not programmed at the time the resurfacing of the street was recommended by his department.

However, a check of the city's 6-year capital improvement programs revealed the Leighton water main was first programmed for 1961-62 construction in the 1961-67 program and then carried over to 1962-63 in the 1962-68 capital improvement budget.

'Unfortunate Situation'

City Engineer Carl Fisher termed the tearing up of a newly-surfaced street as "unfortunate," but said the street will be patched after the water main is laid "so it won't show."

Another $200,000 worth of arterial street resurfacing is expected to be done this year under the 11-year street improvement program.

Erickson said Paving Repair Supt. Lyle Gieseker is currently surveying arterial streets to develop a preliminary priority report.

Erickson said he would personally review Gieseker's report in recommending a 1963 resurfacing program to the council.

Indications were a recommended program would be submitted to the council in the near future.

Walton Vote Still Favors High School

Walton High School will not close. This was the decision made for the second time by Walton School District voters at a special meeting Tuesday evening.

The motion to change from a Class II (high school) district to a Class I (elementary school) district was beaten 130-120. A total of 55% of the votes cast was needed for the motion to pass. It received only 48%.

The special meeting was called by Lewis Cooley, chairman of the 6-member school board, after he received a petition signed by a group of taxpayers from the Walton district.

After the meeting had been called to order, a motion was made to begin voting and avoid more arguments on a question that had been discussed "again and again and again."

The meeting came as a result of a letter to the school board which claimed that the previous meeting held on March 4 did not indicate the true attitude of all residents in the district. The letter said that many people were kept from voting due to bad weather on that day.

Results of the March 4 ballot showed 99 in favor of a move to close the high school and 105 against it.

FDR Jr. Takes Office Oath For Commerce Post

Washington (UPI)—Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. Tuesday took the oath as undersecretary of commerce in special ceremonies at the White House.

President Kennedy welcomed the son of the late president "back to the White House." Mrs. Kennedy kissed him on the cheek, and then kissed Mrs. Roosevent.

Roosevelt, wearing a gray suit and a black armband in memory of his mother, the late Eleanor Roosevelt, was sworn in by Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges.

Taipei (AP)—Funds amounting to $1.25 million will be made available soon for loans to public and private schools in Formosa to improve their facilities, the Provincial Education Department reports. It said $875,000 of the total will be provided by the U.S. Agency for International Development.

Suspend Efforts To Collect Bataan Survivor's Debt

Onarga, Ill. (UPI) — Bataan death march survivor Noble Frank Smith and his wife got the good news Tuesday that the State Department has suspended efforts to collect an old wartime debt from them while Congress considers cancelling it entirely.

Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., announced in Chicago that State Department officials agreed to drop, for the present, trying to collect $1,421 from the Smiths for aid given Smith's war-stranded wife and son during World War II.

Smith, an ex-Marine who is now a farmer, said the aid was given his wife and child when they were caught in China while he was trying to stay alive in Japanese prison camps.

Alaska Mission Reported Burned

Anchorage, Alaska (AP) — St. Mary's Mission, near the mouth of the Yukon River on the southwest Alaskan coast, reportedly burned Tuesday.

It has about 250 Indian and Eskimo students, including 185 boarders.

Word of the fire was received by the state Civil Defense Office here from Bethel, about 130 miles from the mission.

There was no information on the fate of the students.

New Hearing Set In Omaha Cop Row

. . . ANSWERS DON'T SATISFY COUNCIL

Omaha (AP) — Omaha Public Safety Director Chris Gugas and Mayor Dworak engaged in a sometimes heated discussion with city councilmen Tuesday afternoon concerning the recent transfer of Police Captain Ted Janing from the vice detail.

Following the 2½ hour session, Councilman Warren Swigart said he was still not satisfied with the answers presented and asked for another hearing. It was set for 9:30 a.m. next Tuesday.

At Tuesday's meeting, Gugas defended his action in transfering Janing. He emphasized Janing was not fired and said the transfer to the special service section is "good police policy."

Gugas stated there were other reasons for Janing's removal but that they shouldn't be brought out in a public hearing.

The public safety director told the councilmen that a man that couldn't follow orders has to be removed from a position. He said he warned Janing and Chief Ostler that a public official should not go around making derogatory statements concerning police and legal department procedures. He said this is what Janing had done after instructions not to do so.

Dworak defended Gugas' position and referred back to clippings from 1948 which, he said showed Janing had been critical at that time of vice squad policy.

Councilmen Arthur Bradley and Warren Swigart led the opposition to the transfer at the public meeting.

Adequate Support In Congress For JFK's Proposed Tax Cut–Pearson

Hastings (UPI) — Drew Pearson, a Washington columnist, said Tuesday there is sufficient support in Congress to pass President Kennedy's proposed tax cut.

Pearson

But Pearson told a news conference here he believes the rank and file Americans are "hardly more than luke warm" about the tax slash proposal.

"Americans are more concerned about a balanced budget than a tax cut," Pearson said.

Pearson, who was here for a speaking engagement at Hastings College, described former Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton as one of the "most amazingly frank" men to hold a major position in Washington.

Pearson made the comment in regard to the current controversy over "managed news" in Washington. Seaton, a Hastings publisher, served as interior secretary in the Eisenhower administration.

COPY OF EARLY CONSTITUTION PUT ON BLOCK

New York (AP)— A copy of the Articles of Confederation, the earliest constitution under which this nation was governed, will be auctioned April 23, it was announced Tuesday.

Experts believe the document can bring as much as $20,000 at the Parke-Bernet Galleries auction. The document is referred to as "Elbridge Gerry's annotated copy of the second draft of the Articles of Conferation."

The copy is believed to be the first to appear at public auction. It was acquired by a New York private collector directly from descendents of Gerry and contains many marginal notes by the signer.

Almost 90% of Gerry's written suggestions appear in the final draft as adopted by the states in 1781.

Gerry, a native of Massachusetts, was a delegate to the Constitutional Convention at Philadelphia in 1787. He was a member of Congress from 1789 to 1793; governor of Massachusetts, 1810 to 1811; and vice president under President Madison, from 1813 to 1814.

ELEPHANT DIES IN AMUSEMENT PARK'S BLAZE

Arlington, Tex. (AP)—A baby pet elephant, 5 pet seals, 4 alligators and a number of birds burned to death Tuesday when fire destroyed one of the animal barns owned by Six Flags over Texas, a $10 million amusement park.

The fire was of undetermined origin. Park officials estimated loss at $25,000.

The elephant arrived only weeks ago and had not been named. It was one year old, 36 inches high and 350 pounds.

Also destroyed were 10 macaws, a parrot, 3 trumpeter birds and 45 saddles.

Sidney's Missile Visitors Warned

Sidney — Unauthorized visitors to Minuteman missile excavation sites in the southern Panhandle have been warned that they are taking their lives in their own hands.

The Army Corps of Engineers said the local Site Activation Task Force has expressed concern for the safety of persons who visit Minuteman construction sites out of curiosity and without competent escort or safety equipment.

The corps explained that because of construction technicalities, it has not been possible to fence off steep vertical-sided excavations some 30 feet deep. These holes cannot be covered and are difficult to spot at night.

Lake View School Addition Plans Get Preliminary OK

Preliminary plans for an estimated $238,762 addition to Lake View Elementary School at 1124 West Q were approved Tuesday by the Board of Education.

The addition would include 5 classrooms, library, kindergarten, multipurpose room with stage and kitchen.

The approved plan provides for additional structure strength, estimated at $22,000, for a future second story with 8 classrooms.

Supt. Steven Watkins said the future construction would be needed if the Capitol Beach residential area develops. "A 3 or 4-unit school may eventually be needed," he added.

He explained that the limited 5-acre school site necessitates a two-story building. If there was a choice, the $22,000 would be invested in land for one-story expansion, he said. That sum would buy 11 acres or more.

The board also called for April 3 construction bids on the proposed two-story, 10-classroom addition to Robin Mickle Junior High at 67th and Walker.

The addition, located "in one of the fastest growing areas," was necessitated less than 3 years after the $1,340,000 structure was completed.

In other action, the board approved attendance of first the second-grade pupils in the Calvert district at Calvert School for the 1963-64 school year. Calvert, Holmes and Sheridan kindergarten pupils will continue to use the Lincoln Southeast Child Center.

Mrs. Dorcas Cavett, a mathematics instructor, was continued on leave for a second year with the Nebraska Council for Educational Television to complete TV taping of her arithmetic program.

Uni High Principal To Personnel Post

Dr. Carroll R. Sawin, University High School principal for the past 3 years, will become director of personnel for the Lincoln Public Schools.

The Board of Education Tuesday approved Sawin's appointment effective the 1963-64 school year on the recommendation of Supt. Steven N. Watkins. His salary will be approximately $9,000.

The board at a previous meeting approved the creation of the new post under the superintendent's office.

Asst. Professorship

Sawin holds an assistant professorship in school administration at the University of Nebraska and also has 3 years' experience at the university in charge of student personnel and student teaching activities.

He received his master's degree in 1958 and doctor's degree in education in 1960.

The board also authorized negotiations with the City Library Board for air conditioning the joint city-school library at Millard Lefler Junior High.

It was suggested that a 5-ton unit, estimated at $900, be installed with the cost equally shared by the library board and school board.

Library patrons urged the library, with a southwestern exposure, be air-conditioned, or, at least, window awnings installed.

Kauffman And Bush Finalists In Moot Court

Fred Kauffman of Omaha and Guy Bush of Sidney won the semifinals in University of Nebraska College of Law Moot Court competition Tuesday night.

They defeated Jack Barker of Omaha and Ralph O. Canaday Jr. of Hastings.

The winning pair will face William Hemmer and Dean Dalke, both of Lincoln, in final rounds Thursday night.

The two teams will present their arguments in the Nebraska Supreme Court, with 3 Supreme Court judges hearing them.

The case being argued deals with reapportionment in Nebraska.

Cheney Man Says Innocent Of 2 Offenses

George W. Helter, 21, of Cheney, who led Police Officer Arlyn Helm on a high speed chase through eastern Bethany Monday, pleaded innocent to charges of operating a motor vehicle while his driver's license was under suspension and of reckless driving in Municipal Court Tuesday.

Helter was released on $500 bond to appear in court April 30 for trial on the two charges against him.

Officer Helm was treated and released at Lincoln General Hospital for injuries he suffered when the police cruiser he was driving plowed into a field following the chase.

Reports said the Helter car was clocked at speeds up to 78 miles per hour in a 25 m.p.h zone.

Stock Market Is Vigorous

New York (AP)—The stock market showed renewed signs of vigor Tuesday as it enjoyed its first 4-million-share session in nearly two weeks, with prices advancing on balance.

The savings-and-loan holding companies, Big Three motors and selected issues among oils, tobaccos, and chemicals did well. Losses among aerospace issues and unconvincing action by rails, utilities, drugs, electrical equipments and others kept the damper on the market.

The Dow Jones industrial average closed with a net gain of 2.21 at 680.38.

The brisk trading pushed volume up to 4.11 million shares from Monday's 3.7 million.

Of the 1,289 issues traded, gainers outnumbered losers by 585 to 405. New highs for the year totalled 82 and new lows 42.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks ended the day with a moderate gain of .8 at 258.4 with industrials up 1.5, rails up .2, and utilities up .1.

Ten of the 15 most active stocks advanced, 4 declined and Pan American World Airways was unchanged.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 910,000 shares compared with 980,000 Monday.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds declined.

4 Doctors To Discuss 'Clinical Disability'

Four physicians have agreed to tell an assembly of Nebraska attorneys out of court Saturday just how they arrive at decisions involving the "percentage of clinical disability" when claims are made in court for compensation.

Charles Noren, Lincoln attorney and chairman of the planning committee of the Nebraska Association of Trial Attorneys, announced Tuesday that the physicians have agreed to questioning at the Association's annual Spring Seminar at the University of Nebraska.

They will meet at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education.

The medical authorities are Dr. Louis J. Gogela, neurologist and surgeon, Dr. William F. Nye, ophthalmologist, Dr. Paul Goetowski, orthopedic surgeon, and Dr. Robert Hillyer, surgeon, all of Lincoln.

Noren said the physicians agreed to the session at 1:30 p.m. to help attorneys better understand the techniques and reasoning involved behind their judgments.

Other highlights of the seminar will be discussions on Legislative bills pending which will change the workmen's compensation laws at 10 a.m. Speaking will be Kenneth Cobb, Lincoln; Hans Holtorf, Gering, Charles Oldfather, Lincoln; and Kenneth Elson, Grand Island.

The Hon. Benjamin Novicoff, judge of the Nebraska Workmen's Compensation Court, will speak at 11 a.m. on practice and procedure before his court.

Sen. Don McGinley, Ogallala, will speak on Legislative changes in the Nebraska Workmen's Compensation Court.

John Gradwohl, University of Nebraska professor of law, will speak at 3:15 p.m. on "Subsequent Injuries and the Second Injury Fund."

An address by John Mitchell, Kearney, on settlements at 3:45 p.m. will conclude the session.

Noren said more than 100 Nebraska attorneys will attend.
